ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

India will be the fastest growing major economy in 2016-17 growing at 7.5%, ahead of China, at a time when global growth is facing increasing downside risks, as per the World Economic outlook released by the IMF. The government of India has shown commitment towards further strengthening economic environment through various policy initiatives and economic programmes, like Make in India, Skill Development, Digital India and Start-Up India. They collectively envision India as a high-functioning economy focused on industry, innovation and entrepreneurship; the promotion of investor confidence; job creation; the development of infrastructure; and achieving total digital connectivity. The effectiveness of these programmes can be fully assessed only after they mature over the next several years. However, preliminary assessments can be made on the basis of industry projections, the level of collaboration between central and state governments, the commitment of private sector participants, and FDI flows.
