NSS Orientation

16th July 2018

National service scheme of The IIS University had organised a general orientation for 220 NSS Volunteers, so that they could plan activities for the entire semester. This interaction and orientation session was successfully completed with the help of faculties associated with different groups of NSS. The team members decided to perform various activities of NSS. As many students of VIth semester passed out of college so new volunteers were taken into the team.

The following key points were discussed:

1. All the activities performed during last semester by NSS Volunteers were discussed to find out the loopholes and areas to be focussed more, so that the new students who have joined NSS this year could get to know about different projects undertaken in NSS.
2. The achievements of last semester in collaboration with Rotary Gurukul Jaipur was also discussed and future plans were shared with volunteers.
3. The volunteers were asked to share innovative and workable ideas on the basis of challenges faced by them personally in implementation of activities.
4. Especially literacy project running in different schools adopted by each group was discussed and new ideas for improving the academic outcome of students were included in the planning.

23rd July, 2018

178 NSS volunteers of different groups attended a session by Dr. Indu Ravi who shared about IGNOU programmes with new volunteers who had joined this session. The distance education programmes are relevant in the community for those who are unable to study in regular college.

Orientation for NSS Volunteers of Semester III by Dr. SharadRathore

23rd July 2018

Though it is mandatory to choose one of the extracurricular activities in the I Sem and most of the students join NSS in the very first year itself, they can volunteer to join NSS in Sem III as well. But as they do not attend the Orientation programme meant for I year students, these volunteers who joined the NSS wing in their III Semester, weren't aware about the activities and requirements of an NSS volunteer and with the procedure to become a group leader. Thus, Dr. SharadRathore, Programme Officer, NSS Unit I of IIS (Deemed to be University) oriented 300 such students and discussed the various aspects of NSS with them.

Rakhi Making Competition

29th July 2018

Rakshabandhan is a special occasion to celebrate the virtuous bond of love between a brother and a sister which is one of the deepest in all human emotions. To immortalize this festival, a rakhi making activity was organized for the students of NSS on 29th July 2018 and in which around 360 students participated. Students made beautiful rakhis using different articles like silken thread, ribbon etc. Among these rakhis, the person with the best rakhi was awarded and the rest of the rakhis were sold in the campus.

Guest Lecture on Gender Sensitisation

6 August, 2018

198 NSS volunteers attended a session on gender sensitization on sexual harassment. The session was organised on 6th August 2018. The session was initiated with a PPT presentation in order to create better understanding of gender discrimination for the NSS volunteers. During the entire session, the facilitators from Armaan, an NGO discussed about the various ways in which sexual harassment takes place in the society, at homes and at workplace. They also encouraged the volunteers to stand against the sexual harassment through their personal experience. They suggested that the students could carry a pepper spray and use whenever faced with any such situation. The volunteers came to know about their rights and how they could fight against such malpractices with the help of law. The session also ignited the spirit of self-esteem.

Guest Lecture by Mr. AmitLodha, IPS Officer

13th August, 2018

On Monday, 13th August 2018 a session was conducted by IPS officer, Shri AmitLodha. Mr. Lodha enlightened the students on how one can conquer their demons. He also philosophized the importance of being down to earth and confident at the same time. Mr. Lodha, in the session, talked about his professional life and narrated the story of how he caught dangerous criminals in Bihar. Mr. Lodha debunked some myths about being a police officer and told everyone how it is a job that requires willpower and grit.

Apart from being an extraordinary police officer, Mr. Lodha is also a remarkable author. His book "Bihar Diaries", an enthralling account of how he arrested one of the most feared gang-lords, is a best-seller. During the session he also talked about his book. The book has been praised by numerous celebrities like EmraanHashami, Ronnie Skrewvala and Twinkle Khanna. His book is also being produced into two different movies by famous directors. Numerous students were inspired by him and bought his book and got it signed. Mr. Lodha wrote a personalized message for all those students. The session was attended by 189 NSS Volunteers and it turned out to be very interesting and inspiring one.

GROUP LEADER'S TRAINING

13th August, 2018

For this Group Leaders' training 50 NSS volunteers assembled in the Seminar room initially to learn something new and invent something new in themselves. They were asked to give self-introduction. Mr. Valen and Miss Nadini, both Trainers in Genpact, in the LEARNING and DEVELOPMENT Department were the resource persons for this training. Mr. Valen, a calm, disciplined, determined, focused and well-coordinated person introduced himself to the volunteers. Ms. NandiniDusad, was a Group Leader in NSS, The IIS University. The participants had to share one liner on their aspect about LEADERSHIP and their ASPIRATION as a NSS volunteer. It was a fun way to break ice.

The volunteers then proceeded to the Back-Lawn of the campus to know each other and understand themselves in a better way. A game of blind fold was played by dividing into two groups. One person from each group was blind folded and the group had to direct her without letting her hurt and any miss-happening. Then was the time to jot down flaws and mistakes, what was lacking and what needed to be learnt.

The journey of training and a memorable knowledge bank came to an end with Mr. Valen sharing his first impression of the volunteers. by Ms. Nandini's motivational words would encourage the volunteers so that they think beyond what they could do more to facilitate the surroundings to make this World a better place for the one's who are stuck in deep dark hole's and need our hands to BRING THEM TO THE BRIGHT LIGHTS.

Guest lecture by Mr. Diwas Gaur, Vivekananda Kendra, Jaipur

8th October, 2018

The volunteers of NSS Unit I attended a session addressed by Diwas Gaur, Vivekananda Kendra Jaipur. The session revolved around the various activities of the Kendra that are going to be held in the month of October, paving the way before Sister Nivedita's 115th birthday. The session began with a piece of learning for everyone, "Education is worthless until and unless it gives you a feeling of social service."

Mr. Gaur then informed everyone about the event Vimarsh that will be conducted on 21st of October at JLN Marg in Jaipur. The session ended on a happy note, leaving everyone super excited to be a part of Vimarsh and igniting a fire of zeal in every NSS volunteer. After the session, the volunteers of NSS Unit I went for an activity to Dadabadi Basti. The volunteers interacted and explained to the students about the importance of eclipses. The solar and lunar eclipses were enacted by the volunteers as the Sun, Moon and Earth in an interactive way. 187 students were involved in both the activities.

Swachhta Rally

On 9th October, 145 volunteers of NSS department of The IIS University celebrated Swachhta Day as an honour to Mahatma Gandhi's birthday which was last week. NSS volunteers conducted a Swachhta Rally from the University up till the main market area of Mansarovar and then back again. The main motive was to inculcate the sense of responsibility in the hearts of the people towards the society, the surroundings as well as the nation. Besides making use of verbal messages and reciting slogans the volunteers also made swachhta badges and posters. They received a good response from the public on the streets who appreciated them and cheered for them. Overall it was a fun activity for volunteers and an inspiration to the general public.

To begin with, a short presentation was made in the form of a verbal tour of the factory and introduction about the prominent members of the company. Next, the students were divided into two groups-one group to visit the bakery section and the second group to visit the ice-cream production unit. Before proceeding towards both the production units, a set of strict safety rules to be followed during the visit were informed to the inquisitive students. In the bakery section, the demonstration was initiated by informing about the making process of bread which included mixing, molding, fermentation, cooling, shaping, and baking. Then the team headed towards the white products division where they were made aware of the process involved in making and packaging of milk, curd, buttermilk, sweet milk etc. This was followed by visit to the most awaited section of the tour, the ice cream division. It's aroma, atmosphere, and visuals made their stomachs growl even more. Apart from the verbal information, what made them more fascinated was the sight of the practical demonstration of the making and packaging of the mouth drooling ice cream. Their excitement crossed its horizon when they were taken to the blast room with a temperature of -35°C. Finally to quench the thirst of their curious minds they assembled in the conference room where they not only popped their questions but were also served refreshments. This enthusiastic and educational tour came to an end with a group photograph of the FruBon team and the YUVA members. With a wholesome of memories and experience the Yuva members reached the university.

The noon of January 18th, 2019 was marked by the commencement of the 5th edition of the National YUVA Leadership camp conducted as a part of the Leadership Academy by the CII Yi Six Yuva volunteers from the University Shefali Bisht, Sejal Machiwal, Yashika Choudhary, Vishakha Khandelwal, Prachi Kothari, Urmil Jeswani participated in it. The students were warmly welcomed by the coordinators into the premises of Poornima College of Engineering where their stay for the next 3 days was facilitated. After a few hours, the two buses of Poornima University itself were filled with the enthusiastic and excited members of YUVA. The first visit was to a ball bearing cages manufacturing industry named Manu Yantralaya. The 1988 established industry has collaborations with many MNCs and had an impressive machinery setup. After having snacks and mementos given by the team of Manu Yantralaya, the members of YUVA got bifurcated into two groups: one for the visit to Ratan textiles and the other to the Gosil exports. The visit to Ratan textiles was filled with colors, aesthetics and magical experience. The students got to witness the manufacturing of textiles in their most simple and pure form. In visit to Gosil exports the YUVAs got to see and learn about the most exquisite secret behind the finish, forms and shapes given to the jewels. The industrial visits ended with the arrival of students at the Poornima University at 1830 hours. This was followed by the official inauguration of the leadership camp and lamp lighting by Ms. Alifiya Calcuttawala, Yi YUVA National Chair & Regional Director, The Wanderers and Mr. Shreyans Kasliwal, Yi Jaipur Chapter Chair & Director, Kamal Autofinance Ltd. The young members of YUVA were then introduced with the vision behind CII and Yi. They were informed about the perspective behind the formation and execution of CII Yi YUVA. With this, the mike was handed over to Mr. Shreyans Kasliwal who highlighted the leadership skills and the true character traits of an effective leader. It was then that the YUVA members along with Ms. Calcuttawala got introduced to each other through a very interesting activity. They were then divided into 8 teams to perform an overnight activity based on political parties. The objective of the skit was to inculcate the students with the knowledge of effective teamwork, leadership, cooperation, and time management. The students after dinner again gathered to be a part of the YUVA's Got Talent contest to end the night with some entertainment and fun.

The 2nd day of the camp was scheduled as a Jaipur city tour to Amber Fort, Hawa Mahal and Jal Mahal. Mr. Tarachand, the tour guide was extremely friendly and warm. It was very well evident by the excited faces of the students that they neither wanted the time to pass nor did they had the patience to explore more. The picture clicking sessions, souvenirs, and extremely captivating view were most probably the highlights. After the lunch, the entire auditorium was ready with enthusiasm and energy to greet the next speaker Mr. Rahul Mrichandani, Yi past National Chair and Executive Director, Aries Agro Ltd. With the help of stories and interesting examples, the session was totally amazing. Each and every student participated to show his/her keen interest and attentiveness. After a short break, the time came to showcase the charts and skit based on the 5 point agendas prepared by the different teams overnight. The presentation was extremely impressive as many of the students with stage fear and lingual problems also courageously presented their views. The last speaker of the night was Mr. Nitin Sethi, Vice President Digital, Indigo Airlines and explained when is the right time to lead and how to make global brands. The long yet satisfying day ended with the dinner.

The last day of the camp commenced with the speech of a very brilliant and successful person Mr. Paresh Gupta, Brand ambassador, Rajasthan Government Youth and Sports, and TEDx speaker. Every word spoken by Mr. Gupta filled everyone with more respect for him and his reputation. In fact, it was extremely fascinating to hear all the speakers and to know them. They proved out to be very friendly and cooperative by answering the questions and helping in every way possible. To sum up the entire speech sessions, Mr. Atin Jain, Founder Brooklyn World Travels, Director Westford Insurance Brokers&Risk Managers Pvt. Ltd. came up with a final presentation and a very motivating video. The next and again a much awaited session was the valediction ceremony. Every team was highly appreciated and awarded certificate of participation. The helping hands and the coordinators were thanked with a token of appreciation, and great round of applause. To capture the moment all the members, leaders and coordinators assembled to have a group photograph and to bid goodbye to the different young minds from different states and cities. The three-day experience proved out to be a great learning session for not only the students but the leaders who were present on the occasion.

Cleaning of institution (2nd - 5th August)

As a part of SwachthaPakhwada 2018, cleaning of various classrooms, labs, libraries, auditorium, playgrounds, lawns and roads in and around the university was undertaken from 2nd to 5th August by the faculty members and students enthusiastically.

On 2nd of August 168 NSS students participated in classroom cleaning. The activity was organized for one hour. All 168 students were divided into three groups. One group of 20 students were sent to Dadabadi Government school and there 6 classrooms were cleaned. Another group of 25 students went to Badmohanpura Government School. They cleaned 8 classrooms in that school. Primary school children cleaned the cupboards, shelves, windows, window panes, window grills etc. Rest of 123 students were distributed in small groups of three each and allotted 42 different classrooms of the university campus to clean. Cleaning and decorating of Boards and its immediate surroundings were done.

On the next day i.e 3rd August, playgrounds and roads were cleaned. 93 students participated in this activity and again they were divided into three groups. Two groups were sent to respective adopted schools to clean their playgrounds and roads around the school and one group was involved in cleaning university playgrounds. They also cleaned 3 roads around the University campus.

On 4th August two auditoriums and one lawn was cleaned in University campus. A total of 92 NSS volunteers participated in this activity. Aditya Hall and AV Hall were cleaned along with back-lawn of the campus.

On 5th August laboratories and libraries were cleaned by 95 NSS volunteers. They cleaned shelves, equipments and stacked books properly in the Library. Under this Swachh Bharat Abhiyan every nook and corner of library and laboratories were cleaned.

6th - 8th August 2018

During the period the NSS Volunteers visited the adopted slum and took up door to door campaign to make the local masses aware about the importance of cleanliness in their surroundings. On the 6th August, 2018 as a part of the campaign the volunteers went in groups from door to door and discussed Open Defecation in the Dadabari Basti, Sanganer and how can this area be made ODF Free slum. A big group of volunteers went to Government Primary School, Dadabari and spread the awareness about the bad effects of open defecation to 100 students. Many families in the Basti already have toilets in their houses and are also making use of them. Still the mothers would send the little kids in the open for defecation, these mothers and the children were counselled for the same.

On the 7th August, 2018 as a part of the campaign the volunteers discussed Open Defecation in Kalyanpura, Sanganer and also discussed how this area be made ODF Free. 400 students of the Government Middle School, Kalyanpura were made aware about the disadvantages of Open Defecation to the health as well as the environment. The NSS

Volunteers distributed the informative material that was procured from the Nagar Nigam Office like leaflets, handouts from the local agencies working in the fields.

On the 8th August General Cleanliness and Hygiene awareness was taken up by the volunteers through door to door contact in the two adopted areas.

9th - 10th August, 2018

Intensive cleaning of the adopted slum and village was taken up by the NSS Units on the 9th and 10th August, 2018. Local residents were counselled to make optimum use of the dustbins in their homes as well as on the streets. The volunteers distributed recyclable polythene bags to the residents to collect the garbage of the entire day and dispose it off in the dust bins installed at different places. With the help of the pamphlets, the volunteers emphasized the use and significance of green and blue dustbins.

On the 10th August, the volunteers demonstrated the right way of washing the hands after toilet and before eating the food in the Government Schools at Dadabari and Kalyanpura, to observe hygiene and keep healthy.

11th - 13th August, 2018

NSS Units took up cleanliness in the community center, SFS, Agarwal Farm Mansarovar, which is located close to The IIS University campus on the 11th August. The volunteers were divided into groups of 10 and different areas of the center were allocated to them for cleaning. The same activity was taken up in the two adopted bastis on the 13th August. The residents were involved in the process of cleaning the public places like the Anganbadicentre in Dadabari Basti.

14th August, 2018

The NSS Units went to their adopted areas, Dadabari and Kalyanpura and organized rallies there, by involving the school kids and the local people, which ended in a Nukkad Natak on Swachhata. They made posters on Swachhata carrying messages of cleanliness and placards to create awareness in the masses. They also read out the slogans loudly, which was also repeated by the school students, which attracted the attention of people on the streets.

Gram Sabha at Mohana Village, Jaipur

15th August 2018

30 students of the University visited Mohana Village on 15th August 2018 along with two faculty members of the University. The purpose of the visit was to celebrate Independence day with them and to conduct Gram Sabha for understanding the problems faced by the locals and to try suggesting solutions for the same. The program started with Flag Hoisting. After the Flag hoisting The Unnat Bharat team of two members Dr. Pragya Sharma and Ms. Chanda Asani interacted with people from the village. Villagers enthusiastically participated in the sabha and openly discussed their issues with the team.

Some of the major problems faced included shortage of water and water available was dirty.

The electricity was only given during the night which lead to many other issues of health as women work in filthy water for different kinds of agricultural work. They do not get electricity power at the time of planting seeds (bowaai). Mohana pond water, which is also a source for recharging wells, is filthy.

Water level was reducing. Nasik medicine (some kind of pesticide) is not available when required. The Primary Health Centre does not have a doctor coming nor does it have adequate facilities.

Plastic is a major issue which is not created by farmers but merchants. Animals suffer because of this plastic, water bodies are facing problem because of plastics. Health is being affected.

Solar plant would be a great help according to quite a few farmers.

PRA Exercise at Village Kot Zevar

29th August 2018

10 students of the University under Unnat Bharat Abhiyan visited KOT JEWAR village which comes in Dudu Tehsil, Jaipur. Kot Jewar population is 700 approx and consists of 300 houses. 300-350 people are engaged in Blue pottery work.

Main objective of the field visit was to observe and collect information of the village through Participatory Appraisal Technique.

PRA was done with the help of key respondents of the village ,one was Lala Ram ji, told us that, he is the one who brought the concept of Blue Pottery in the village 25 years back and taught blue pottery art to villages and has been awarded by Vasundhra Raje.Lala Ram ji said he stayed in Germany for two months for workshop on Blue Pottery in which he taught blue pottery art to people and all the expenses were incurred by the government. Another key respondent was Sua lalji, President,of an NGO running for the welfare of artisans. Other participants were the people the village. Around 40-45 people participated. Following techniques were used to understand the condition of village.

- 1.Resource Mapping
- 2.Social Mapping
- 3.Transit walking
- 4.Focussed group interview
- 5.Wealth Mapping

While talking to villagers we came to know that main source of income of people of Kot Jewar is Blue Pottery and agriculture. Water comes from Bisalpur in Kot Jewar. Lala Ram ji helped us to locate all the resources of the village. We did resource mapping by using colours and chalks. Wealth mapping was done by using small stones. Focussed group interview was done on women, children of various age groups,male members.

Following problems were identified:

Their main source of livelihood is blue pottery, but they are weak in technology.

Proper market is not available so they can't get proper amount for their product.

For agriculture proper water facility is not available.

Backwardness of the community especially in field of health, sanitation and education. Condition becomes more severe when concern is about women community.

Domestic Violence

4th September 2018

The Department of Home Science of the IIS University organized an extension activity on Domestic Violence on 4th Sept 2018 in Haziyawala community. The extension activity was organized by Ms. Archanakumari, Assistant Professor, Department of H.Sc, Human Development and 5 students of B.Sc (H) H.Sc Semester III.

The programme aimed at empowering women of urban slum to be aware and raise voice against the Domestic violence. The rationale of the activity is to create awareness about different types of domestic violence, Provisions under Domestic violence Act and to counsel them about how to deal with it.

The target group for this activity was women of Haziawala community. The reason behind selecting this particular section was that when the NSS team of IISU was conducting their activity, it was observed by the coordinator that many students are irregular. The principal of the school informed that she talked to their mother and got to know that fathers of most of the children have the habit of drinking and they abuse their children and wife on a regular basis. So because of disturbance in their domestic life they remain absent most of the days. So a urgent need was felt to conduct an extension activity in this area.

The activity was organized in the premises of Haziawala Government Primay school after taking the prior permission from the principal of the school. A total of 38 women of the community attended the activity.

The whole activity was planned in three steps namely, Presentation, Role Play and Interaction with women and their counseling. Materials were prepared accordingly like PPT, costumes, posters etc.

First a pictorial PPT was prepared to make the women aware about Domestic violence, provision of DV Act, procedure of filing complain, financial compensation and punishments. This was presented by all students in Hindi mixed with local language.

This was followed by a role play performed by all students depicting a women suffering from Domestic violence and how she deals with it. All the students participated in this role play.

Lastly an interactive and counseling session was held. Surprisingly women came out and shared their experience. One of the ladies spoke on how she protected her daughter from this social evil. She shared her whole story. While counseling one of the ladies revealed that she had complained once against her husband and as a result it was never repeated.

It was observed that the interactive session was very effective. Women interacted with students about their sufferings. Although most of them did not come out but their tears filled eyes were telling their stories. Many of them said that they are dependent on their head of the family so if they take step against them then, how will they rare their children. The students informed them about the compensation they will get from their husband and also advise them to empower themselves by becoming self-reliant. The activity was ended with a hope that one day they will raise their voice against this shameful act. In the end small refreshments were given to all the participants. i.e. samosa and tea.

Gender Role Perception

15th October 2018

The Department of Home Science of the IIS University organized an extension activity on Gender Role Perception on 15th October 2018 in IIS University campus. The extension activity was organized by Ms. Archanakumari, Assistant Professor, Department of H.Sc, Human Development and 5 students of B.Sc (H) H.Sc Semester III.

The programme aimed at dissemination the knowledge about prevalence of Gender defined Role in Indian society. It is evident in society that there are certain roles placed on boys and girls in accordance with their gender. These gender roles are imposed on children from birth and are taught until eventually they are accepted as absolute truth. Newborn babies are carried out of the hospital in either a pink blanket or a blue blanket depending on gender. Gifts of trucks or dolls are given to toddlers depending on the child's sex. Stories about princesses are read to little girls, while stories of dragons and swords are read to little boys. This socialization of gender roles is reinforced through the family, media, and education system. The rationale of the activity is to create awareness about stereotyped pattern of gender role and how society constructs these roles.

The target group for this activity was NSS students of the IIS University, Jaipur. The reason behind selecting this particular section was that youth of today have a wide range of ideas and orientations, even about issues as fundamental as gender. Among these ideas, differing ideas about gender can be very challenging, especially if a person hasn't thought about the issues of growing up male or female and how gender expectations affect day-to-day working relationships. This workshop invites students to think and dialogue on what gender role is and on their own attitudes toward it.

A total of 138 college girls from all the streams attended the activity.

The whole activity was planned in four steps namely, preparation of questionnaire on gender role perception, data collection, data analysis and discussion of result with NSS students. Materials were prepared accordingly.

Before conducting the activity preparation was done by semester III students of B Sc Home Science. A questionnaire containing 20 relevant items pertaining to gender role perception was constructed after a long discussion with the concerned faculty. It included items related to coming home late, household chores, participation in family decision making, clothing etc.

After preparation of the questionnaire data was collected from 60 unmarried (30 girls and 30 boys) and 60 people who were married since 5 years (30 women and 30 men). The collected data was tabulated and frequency was obtained through analysis.

Finally on 15th of October the result was discussed with all students. Each and every student participated in the presentation. It was quite an interactive session. As it was based on their day-to-day challenges they face so everyone could connect themselves with the findings.

Although we say that, society has been changing as far as gender role performance is concerned. There is no stereotyped role performance especially in an egalitarian middle class society where both man and women are equally participating in economic activities. But the result of this discussion proved this perception wrong. Many of the students agreed that they are treated as equal to boys in many spheres but still they face discrimination in their day-to-day life. The survey result depicted that boys wish to be boys in almost all items asked to them except clothing as they do not have much variety to wear. Whereas girls wished to be live like boys in many cases such as going out of hometown for studies, coming home late in the evening and so on. At the end of the activity it was requested to the students for putting efforts in changing the present scenario, as only youth has the potential to bring change in the mindset of the society.

Visit to JKK for KamlaBhasin's session

12thFebruary 2019

Azad Foundation Jaipur celebrated 'KishoriMela' and 'One Billion Rising Against Violence' on women on 11-12 February 2019 in JKK. Students from different schools of Jaipur attended the programme. On the concluding day there was a session of Ms. KamlaBhasin, Social activist, change maker and author. Women's Cell in collaboration with other departments of IIS University organized for students of Foundation Women's Studies, Sociology, Social Work and Journalism to attend this session at JKK. 20 students from the university went for the same. KamlaBhasin's book 'Patriarchy' is read in Women's Studies courses both in Elective and Foundation by students. It was indeed a privilege to take students to attend a session specially one which she was doing for young adolescent girls mostly from underprivileged background.

She slowly steered the girls through honestly interacting session by sharing personal experience for understanding gendered knowledge making constantly bringing Constitution of India. Even though the session was for adolescent school girls, it was enriching for University girls and faculty, as KamlaBhasin is candid in her sharing and she goes beyond books to bring out the nuances of gender constructions of society.

Screening of Ted Talk

23rd February 2019

A Ted Talk was screened for Foundation Women's Studies students. The Ted Talk by Kamla Bhasin is titled 'Patriarchy Dehumanizes Men!' The 18 minutes Ted Talk is an attempt to make students see how gender not only constraints men but it also dehumanizes them. It banishes the idea that that patriarchy only oppresses women. It does not allow scope for men to express emotions which leads to unexpected violent ruptures. The Ted Talk was done in either coed college or only male students! As the audience is not visible it is only through Bhasin's addressing of the audience this assumption can be made and the acceptance of audience can be heard by cheers. Her quoting of WHO about the missing girls brings forth the gender perspective to both genders!

Students were asked to write what they would do to bring change in the patriarchal system. Bhasin and her brothers celebrated Raakhi by tying it on each others hand, brothers and sisters together lit the pyre of their mother, such examples gave an insight how practical possible changes could bring equality. 50 students attended the session.

International Women's Day Programme - Poster Exhibition

7-8 March 2019

Jointly organized by Women's Cell, Centre for Women's Studies, Gender Champion Club and NSS

On the occasion of International Women's Day Poster making competition was organized. More than 100 posters were exhibited for 2 days in campus as part of celebrating International Women's Day. It is a pleasure to see the creativity of students when posed with something as unexpected. Few students took help from internet, few brought out the obvious selection, some make attempts at trying something new and some create extraordinary expressions, altogether making each year worth waiting for their creative upsurge.

The students who came to see are wonderstruck by the concepts. Students from different departments and NSS volunteers came to see the exhibition. Women's Studies elective students tried to evaluate the posters. Journalism and Mass communication students saw it from their perspective.

Session on Women's Health Awareness

8 March 2019

Women's Health is an integral part of social existence which neither gets addressed by the society, nor women themselves. Women's health is taken as Unit in Foundation Women's Studies. For International Women's Day a session about Women's Health was organized in IIS Campus for students of the University. Dr Shweta Gupta, a Gynecologist had an interactive session with the students sharing a few aspects of women's health. 50 students participated in it.

Dr Shweta Gupta, Gynecologist, SDMH	Students in her session on Women's Health

Breaking taboos about menstruation she candidly took the students into confidence to share their personal sexual issues with their family doctor. Not go to strangers and to not delay such issues. The medical fraternity has had to deal with teenage pregnancies. She did not want to divulge the enormity of it but her concern and safety of college going girls was obvious when she insisted that they should take precaution and urge partners to take precaution too. She further shared about Cancers prevalent in women many of which can be avoided with preliminary tests. Even being a Gynic her approach was more of prevention and social health for developing healthy womanhood. It was an enriching session for the girls on the path to adulthood, an apt session for celebrating International Women's Day.

Health Camp for Women
(BP, Sugar and Hemoglobin) in collaboration with SDMH Jaipur
8th March 2019

There was overwhelming response of students and staff. SDMH had arranged for 250 testing of hemoglobin which got used.

Gender Sensitization on Sexual Harassment
6th August 2018

Collaborative effort of Department of Commerce and Management and Centre for Women’s Studies, Women’s Cell, Gender Club and Population Education Club

Team Armaan has been associated with the IIS (deemed to be) University for past four years to do session with students about creating awareness towards sexual harassment. Their motto is Respecther, i.e., respect the other. Students of Management studies and Women’s studies participated in the session.

100 students were present for the session. The session commenced with screening of a very powerful video which talked about assault, harassment and its reportage. This was followed by a round of questions asked by them, viz, "Have any of you been harassed from verbal to any physical way?" Lots of hands were raised. "Do you think anyone from your family could be a potential rapist?" Only three hands went up. A potential rapist is someone who has the ability to rape someone which starts with ignored sexual harassment.

The speaker then talked about the power of standing up and fighting for your rights. Lastly, few incidents were shared, questions were discussed, some startling facts discovered. The fact that the Shipra Path police officials are willing to set up an office near to the college, they just don't have enough number of complaints to be put down on paper. They said that only two cases have been filed in three years and harassment is a daily issue, they are aware of that. Speed dial numbers were set up, police stations numbers were given, were informed about the statements in IPC against harassment and sexual assault. The session was so interesting that none of the students wished to leave.

The session was not only an awareness session on sexual harassment and available protective legal provisions but it was also an effort to change outlook to overcome fear and shame.

Gender Sensitization Sessions

14, 21 and 28 August 2018

Day 1 Ms. ChandaAsani did sessions with 100 management students for 3 days. First day was introducing students to accepted concepts of beauty as considered in advertisements! The constructions of gender are so strong that the idea of questioning the advertisements of fairness comes as a surprise to the young girls. They slowly acknowledge and accept the created insecurities and discrimination of beauty myths. The appearance involves not just the colour but also how women speak and dress and their education also plays a part in this process of differentiation. The hierarchy inherent in this gendered process is difficult to perceive. The management jobs are paid higher than others, is also part of this system of gendered socialization.

Day 2 Women's menstrual health was taken up the second day. The purity and impurity notion is a major gender issue which creates young girls to have low self esteem. This is due the fact that menstrual cycle is monthly affair and when girls get initiated to this in their impressionable adolescence. Month after month, year after year the reproductive period coincides with the productive period in women's life. If menstruation is associated with impurity and women are not allowed to worship then they tend to feel inferior. Knowing that it is the same blood which enhances all humanity is an eye opener and provides space for change. Seeing menstruation as health criteria helps women to respect their bodies and take care of it accordingly.

Day 3 Women's representation in History was taken to further empowerment of girls. There are hardly any women in mainstream History. This is because there were hardly any queens and History is written about rulers! And the women who are written about in Indian History are mostly from upper caste and upper class can be counted on fingers. This again makes women feel that their work and worth is not good enough to be written about. Rewriting History has been done by Women's Studies scholars not just from academics of History but also feminist scholars from various other disciplines. This rewriting is making women visible to all. This rewriting also speaks about how women are represented in history as per patriarchal norms.

One such example is Taj Mahal a tomb of Mumtaz Mahal, third wife of Shahjahan who died giving birth to her 14th child. History does not mention about Razia Sultan's tomb, the only queen of Delhi Sultanate, same religion but was given the kingdom in preference of her brothers as she was more capable. If antiquity is concerned as taken with Brahmanical texts considered more valid when older then Razia Sultan should have been more important in representation in History! That would be inspiration to women and men to diminish the gendered socialization.
