INCEPTION

The IISU grew out of the International College for Girls (ICG) which was established in 1995, as a college affiliated to the University of Rajasthan. Since then, ICG has crossed many significant milestones in its journey towards excellence in higher education. Besides receiving numerous other accolades, it was accredited A+ by the NAAC of UGC in 2005. It was also identified as a Model College by the state government in 2006 and thereafter it was conferred the status of Autonomous College in 2007 by the U.G.C. It was further recognized as a College with Potential for Excellence (CPE) by the UGC in 2010. In a national survey conducted by AC-Nielsen-ORG MARG, also in 2010 for the India Today magazine, ICG was rated as the topmost college in the state in Arts, Science and Commerce streams. Ranked among the top 30 institutions of the country in this survey, the College became a symbol of quality education and women's empowerment. The institution while working as an Autonomous College was declared as Deemed-to-be-a-University by the Ministry of Human Resource Development (MHRD), Government of India, vide its notification dated 2nd February, 2009, issued under Section 3 of the UGC Act, 1956. This, more than an achievement, was a reaffirmation of our faith in the quality and innovation, in research and academics taken up at the institution right from its inception in 1995. Soon after becoming Deemed University in the name and style of 'The IIS University', in a review conducted by the 'Tandon Committee' constituted by the MHRD, it was recognized for its competence and strength and was placed in category 1, along with the 37 other Deemed-to-be-Universities of Category 1 across the country. This has accorded IISU greater reliability and credibility and provided with a unique opportunity to explore and put in place what is needed to empower its students through the three Es -Efficiency, Excellence and Effectiveness and prepare them as worthy citizens, ready to take up social and economic reforms with a scientific aptitude.

Thus, from a visionary beginning in 1995, IISU is now moving on to new heights as a digitally smart campus with contemporary and relevant programmes and e-learning systems. Alongside its rapid growth and development, the University retains a friendliness and warmth, which has characterized the institution from its early days. With about 5000 students on its rolls and more than 300 faculty and staff members, it offers Undergraduate, Postgraduate and Doctoral degree programmes in streams like, Arts, Humanities, Visual Arts, Science, Home Science, Social Sciences, Computer Science and IT, Commerce and Management, Fashion Designing, Jewellery Designing etc. A multidisciplinary University, its curriculum requires both breadth of learning and in-depth knowledge and prepares its graduates to be problem- solvers, communicators and ethical citizens of a global community.

To meet the CO<sub>2</sub> emission reduction targets, carbon dioxide capture and utilization (CCU) comes as an evolve technology. CCU concept is turning into a feedstock and technologies have been developed for transformation of CO<sub>2</sub> in to useful organic products. At industrial scale, utilization of CO<sub>2</sub> as raw material is not much significant as compare to its abundance. Mechanisms in nature have evolved for carbon concentration, fixation and utilization. Assimilation and subsequent conversion of CO<sub>2</sub> in to complex molecules are performed by the photosynthetic and chemolithotrophic organisms. In the last three decades, substantial research is carry out to discover chemical and biological conversion of CO<sub>2</sub> in various synthetic and biological materials, such as carboxylic acids, esters, lactones, polymer biodiesel, bioplastics, bio-alcohols, exopolysaccharides. This review presents an over view of catalytic transformation of CO<sub>2</sub> in to biofuels and biomaterials by chemical and biological methods.

Domestic Violence

The Department of Home Science of the IIS University organized an extension activity on Domestic Violence on 4th Sept 2018 in Haziawala community.

The extension activity was organized by Department of Home Science ( Human Development) in collaboration with NSS (IIS, deemed to be University), Jaipur . The activity was coordinated by Archana Kumari, Assistant Professor, Department of Home Science. B.Sc (H) Home Science and NSS volunteers participated in the activity.

The program aimed at empowering women of urban slum to be aware and raise voice against the Domestic violence. The rationale of the activity is to create awareness about different types of domestic violence, Provisions under Domestic violence Act and to counsel them about how to deal with it.

The target group for this activity was women of Haziawala community. The reason behind selecting this section was that when the NSS team of IISU was conducting their activity, it was observed by the coordinator that many students are irregular. The principal of the school informed that she talked to their mothers and got to know that fathers of most of the children have the habit of drinking and they abuse their children and wife on a regular basis. So, because of disturbance in their domestic life they remain absent most of the days. So, an urgent need was felt to conduct an extension activity in this area.

The activity was organized in the premises of Haziawala Government Primary school after taking the prior permission from the principal of the school. A total of 38 women of the community attended the activity.

The whole activity was planned in three steps namely, Presentation, Role Play and Interaction with women and their counseling. Materials were prepared accordingly like PPT, costumes, posters etc.

First a pictorial PPT was prepared to make the women aware about Domestic violence, provision of DV Act, procedure of filing complains, financial compensation and punishments. This was presented by all students in Hindi mixed with local language.

This was followed by a role play performed by all students depicting a woman suffering from Domestic violence and how she deals with it. All the students participated in this role play.

Lastly an interactive and counseling session was held. Surprisingly women came out and shared their experience. One of the ladies spoke on how she protected her daughter from this social evil. She shared her whole story. While counseling one of the ladies revealed that she had complained once against her husband and as a result it was never repeated.

Impact of the Activity:

It was observed that the interactive session was very effective. Women interacted with students about their sufferings. Although most of them did not come out but their tears filled eyes were telling their stories. Many of them said that they are dependent on their head of the family so if they take step against them then, how will they rear their children. The students informed them about the compensation they will get from their husband and advise them to empower themselves by becoming self-reliant. The activity was ended with a hope that one day they will raise their voice against this shameful act.

In the end small refreshments were given to all the participants. i.e. samosa and tea.

Gender Role Perception

The Department of Home Science of the IIS University organized an extension activity on Gender Role Perception on 15th October 2018 in IIS University campus. The program aimed at dissemination of the knowledge about prevalence of Gender defined roles in Indian society. The socialization of gender roles is reinforced through the family, media, and education system. Thus, the rationale of the activity was to create awareness about stereotyped pattern of gender role and how society constructs these roles. The whole activity was planned in four steps namely, preparation of questionnaire on gender role perception, data collection, data analysis and discussion of result with NSS students. Materials were prepared accordingly. Before conducting the activity, preparation was done by semester III students of B Sc Home Science. A questionnaire containing 20 relevant items pertaining to gender role perception was constructed after a long discussion with the concerned faculty. After preparation of the questionnaire data was collected from 60 unmarried (30 girls and 30 boys) and 60 people who were married for 5 years (30 women and 30 men). The collected data was tabulated, and frequency was obtained through analysis. Finally, on 15th of October the result was discussed with all students. The result of this discussion proved the age-old perception wrong. Many of the students agreed that they are treated as equal to boys in many spheres but still they face discrimination in their day-to-day life. At the end of the activity it was requested to the students for putting efforts in changing the present scenario, as only youth has the potential to bring change in the mindset of the society.

Survey Activity on Usage of Smartphones among young adults

A survey on "Usage of Smartphones among young adults" was done by Kajal Bhansali, Aditi Chaturvedi, Apeksha Sharma, Sneha Gupta and Vartika Tiwari. The objective of the study was primarily designed to explore the effects on human behavior and health, awareness of the effects of Smartphone and solutions to mitigate the effect of mobile devices on human health and life. The entire primary research study was conducted at The IIS University, Jaipur in order to provide current snapshot of the youth market. The target group constituted of young adults with a random convenience sample of size 50. The study on Smartphone usage pattern, effects on young adults helped to conclude that the usage of smart phones for work purposes is much more as compared to other uses. However, the combined time spent on all activities exceeds the permissible duration per day for many of the respondents. Moreover, many of the surveyed have been found using their smart phones just after waking up, while having meals and during late hours at night. These habits may cause prolonged illnesses/disorders relating to mind and body and might result in suicidal behavior due to stress and anxiety. Lastly, 46% of the respondents admit that they can't live without their phones for even a day. This shows that the smart phones are increasingly becoming a 'necessity' instead of a 'luxury' for young adults.

Movie Analysis "Reign over Me"

The Department of Psychology organized a Movie show on Monday, 1st August 2018. The film shown was REIGN OVER ME starring Adam Sandler and Don Cheadle in leading roles. In the tragic incident of 9/11/2011 in New York, Charlie Fineman lost everything he deemed important in his life. After 5 years since then, and now, the once sociable and successful Charlie became withdrawn and a shadow of the man he was. The students were informed that Charlie doesn't talk about them at all and pretends as if they never existed which concerns his parents-in-law about his mental health. Through the analysis the students got to know that although on surface it would seem that Alan, a successful dentist, has it all; the societal pressure of a family and career have been weighing him down. Students observe that Charlie displayed all the signs of Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder. The movie viewing was followed by a psychological analysis of the different ways of rapport formation used by the therapist in the film; symptoms of PTSD shown by the Charlie Fineman.

Movie Show "Forrest Gump"

The Department of Psychology organized a Movie show on Monday, 27th September 2018. The film shown was Forrest Gump starring Tom Hanks and Rebecca Williams. Forrest Gump is a simple man with a low I.Q. but good intentions. He is running through childhood with his best and only friend Jenny. His 'mama' teaches him the ways of life and leaves him to choose his destiny. Although in the end all he wants to prove is that anyone can love anyone. The movie viewing was followed by a psychological analysis of how Gump's life has an enormous impact on others' lives and of achievements that would ordinarily require and reflect extraordinary motivational focus. Thus, it gave a platform for students to apply the theoretical concepts learnt in classroom to real world settings and develop critical thinking skills in Psychology.

National Handloom Day: Flaunt the warp and weft

7th August, a day in memory of the 'Swadeshi Movement' of 1905, India weaves in to celebrate National Handloom Day as the country has been a hub of organic looms that serve as an employment scheme to the artisans and craftsmen who put in hours of labor to provide the finest of couture as an end product. Handlooms aren't just important for aesthetic and cultural reasons, they're also integral to political and diplomatic engagements, as they are symbols of a nation's identity, culture and inclusive development. Celebrating such days brings awareness about our rich textiles and brings pride as a fashion designer to be able to use such looms and be a part of this movement.

Department of Fashion & Textiles celebrated National Handloom Day by urging students of the Department to wear Handloom products as part of the #IWEARHANDLOOM campaign. Students of the Department displayed products and delivered talks to young fashionistas to show millennials that handloom isn't just for the oldies.

Students emphasized that in this age of fast fashion, aesthetics seems to have lost out. With mass manufacturing, no trend stays longer than a season and there are hardly any emotions attached to what one wears and how we present ourselves. Somewhere, with this thought, wearing handloom calms this roadrunner lifestyle, and also makes one feel proud and unique. It made them feel that in some way they are contributing to revivalism.

Prof. Kumar is a Faculty member of the Department of English and Cultural Studies at Panjab University in Chandigarh. Focusing on research as an important part of the life of a scholar, he advised the students to beware of being caught in stereotypical academic fashions. To work on something, he emphasized, there should be a problem to be answered. A serious researcher should not aim merely to fulfill the obligation of the ‘slogan’ without committing to first undertaking serious research.

He went on to observe that research, as a practice, is in a crisis of relevance. Where research means the asking of uneasy questions, it becomes important first to understand how the examination of a topic is going to empower us as a civilization.

Towards this end, Prof. Kumar made a point of stating that no informal research is impractical as long as it is followed through with perseverance. He also cautioned the students towards maintaining honesty in research and urged them not to shy away from unexpected results, as these would only serve to further the scholar's own understanding of the subject.

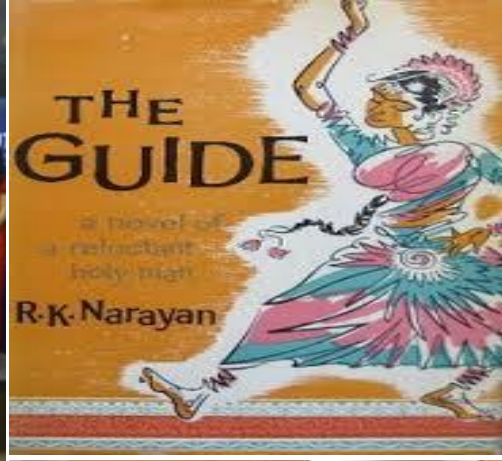

Towards the end, Prof. Kumar brought up the topic of hyper textuality, emphasizing the need for reaching out to a broader base for ideas as well as to enable a trans-disciplinary outlook for seeking answers to research questions.

Three-Day Workshop on "Japanese Woodblock Printmaking by Kenji Najima" and "Demonstration cum artist talk on Chine- Colle by Tomoyohaya"

The Department of Visual Arts organized a three-day workshop on "Japanese Woodblock Printmaking by Kenji Najima" and "Demonstration cum artist talk on Chine- Colle by Tomoyohaya". The workshop was from 25 -27 February, 2019 from 10 am to 4 pm Visual Arts Department of IIS University Campus, Mansarovar, Jaipur. Kenji Najima and Tomoyohaya were the artists invited from Japan for their demonstration. Born in 1968 at Mie, Kenji Najima is a Japanese Printmaker who has held many solo and group shows Internationally. His work has been appreciated and has featured on the book covers of many Japanese writers. His works are displayed in many Japanese Museums like the Fukuoka Art Museum, Kurbo City Art Gallery, The Museum of Modern Art Wakayama and others. Kenji Najima works on woodblock plates and prints them with a baren, a hand tool with flat bottom used in Japanese woodblock printmaking on handmade Japanese paper using watercolor pigments. In this workshop, Japanese artist Kenji Najima displayed his prints, discussed his works' subject, technique and process and demonstrated how to create water-based wood block print. Students of Department and faculties participated in this workshop and interacted with the artist who generously elaborated his technique to the students.

The printmaking studio of Visual Arts Department of IIS University Campus, Mansarovar, Jaipur on 27th February 2019 was bustling with young artists on Wednesday when Canada-based Japanese artist Tomoyolhaya shared with them a special technique of graphic art in the morning. The printmaker demonstrated techniques of Chine Colle graphic art. The usual intaglio style of printmaking involves the incision of the required image on a metal plate on which ink is applied and then imprinted on a thick paper. In the Chine Colle method, the paper used is of a smoother and thinner variety. The artist does not need to prepare and print additional plates. "This is an Italian technique in which the image produced is creamier and has special effects of smoother textures. Since initially Chinese natural fiber paper was used, the method is known as Chine Colle. But now, a Japanese paper, gampi, made from a variety of wild mulberry plants, is used," said Tomoyo. She demonstrated how the same image when produced on gampi has sharper details than on European paper. Students also tried their hand at it and Tomoyo guided them well. It was an exceptional experience for the students. Tomoyo shared her drawing and painting concepts during a deliberation on the same day in evening at the same venue. Printmaking and etching are her forte, for which she is acclaimed worldwide. She put on show her experiences in the past visits in India through her drawings (drawing a cremation site in Varanasi, documenting fire pits, cremation alters, and contemplating on life and death around fire) synchronized with this particular movement, an extreme way of 'offering' their bodies to 'fire' for asking freedom and peace. Much of her art speaks to deprivation, oppression, lost homelands, escapes and exile. She has developed her own iconography to convey compassion for this misery. Frequent symbols are legs – often truncated at the knee – eyes, fires, tear drops and empty bowls. At times, she even burns small holes in her paper with incense sticks. Her latest exhibition, Eyes Water Fire, at Art Beatus in Vancouver until Nov. 25, is another paean to compassion. Delicately drawn icons, sometimes painted in gentle tones, elicit a visceral response. Blue legs, for instance, "cross the borders on snow-covered mountains or swim across the ocean," says Ihaya, or, flames awash in red declare "resistance and dignity or lights of prayers."

Fine Art Guild organized a "Marbling Workshop" on 1st April in Department of Visual Arts. Marbling is a method of aqueous surface design, which can produce patterns similar to smooth marble or other kinds of stone. The patterns are the result of color floated on either plain water or a viscous solution and then carefully transferred to an absorbent surface, such as paper or fabric. It is based on principle that oil and water never mixes.

Enamel paints were used to create Marbling texture on paper, mobile cover and jewelry. A tray was taken and water was poured in the same. After that kerosene oil was diluted in enamel paints to get a proper consistency of the color. Then the color was dropped with the help of a brush on the surface of the water and was mixed with the help of a needle to create different pattern. Once the pattern was created on the surface of water, different surface was dipped in the tray to transfer the marbling texture on the same like paper, mobile cover, mount board and jewelry.

Through this workshop students not only learned to create marbling effect but also got to learn how it can be used on various surfaces and how special effects can be added to various product to enhance the beauty of the product using the same.

Team building is one of the foundations of human development to improve performance of an individual. On 15th September, 2018 the students of Department of Business Studies, The IIS University, Jaipur had a great team building experience with each other. As a part of it, they were divided into two teams and did various activities such as aligning around goals, building effective working relationships, finding solutions to team problems and much more. Of all the organizational activities, one study found team - development to have the strongest effect for improving individual as well as organizational performance. They were explained how team building further helps in enhancing motivation and hence in reducing conflicts which also helps in setting individual purposes and goals. The top priority for team managers is delegation is what they were informed. The students learned that No matter how skilled you are, there's only so much that you can achieve working on your own. With a team behind you, you can achieve so much more: that's why it's so important that you delegate effectively!

Successful delegation starts with matching people and tasks, so you first need to explain what your team's role and goals are. A good way of doing this is to put together a team structure, which sets out the purpose of the team and how it will work. Not only does this help you get your team off to a great start, it can also be useful for bringing the team back on track if it gets unbalanced.

Prof. Derek P. Gates, Prof. K. C. Kumaraswamy, Prof. Dietrich Gudat, Prof. Gerhard Haegele , Prof. R. Murugavel, Prof, Prof. Robert Berger, Prof. Ralff Tonner , Prof. R.K Bansal, Dr. Easwar Srinivasan, Dr. Dalip Kumar, Dr. Anil Kumal and Dr. Neelima Gupta etc. were the celebrated speakers who emphasized on wide ranging themes, be it fluorescent sensors, analysis of stereoisomers by high resolution NMR spectral analysis or molecular modeling.

In this conference, 35 faculties, 34 research scholars, 35 undergraduate and postgraduate students presented their posters. Three oral presentations were also given.

The conference ended with a vote of thanks by Dr. Pragya Sinha with the anticipation that more such informative conferences will be arranged in future.

National Conference on “Recent trends in Material Science and Nanotechnology” 18-19 January, 2019

The Department of Physics of IIS (deemed to be University), Jaipur organized a two day National Conference on “Recent trends in Material Science and Nanotechnology” from 18-19 January, 2019. Around 10 resource persons and 100 participants contributed in the conference from different regions of India. Prof. D. K. Avasthi, Director, Institute of Nanotechnology, Amity University, Noida campus delivered a keynote address on “Nanotechnology for Sustainable Society”. Speakers talked about the role of nanostructures in various materials of energy, water remediation and health related issues. They also reported the effect of  $\text{TiO}_2$  and NTO (Nb doped  $\text{TiO}_2$ ) thickness on the electrical and optical properties of the  $\text{TiO}_2/\text{Ag}/\text{TiO}_2$  (TAT) and  $\text{NTO}/\text{Ag}/\text{NTO}$  (NAN) multilayer films. Dr. Anami Bhargava interestingly explained an exciting relationship between light and matter in photonic crystals through their basic physical principles and applications. There was discussion about the effects of material surface density on functional group mediated binding events with proteins and pathogens using optical, electrochemical and surface analysis techniques. To encourage scientific research among students and faculty, research paper presentations were also scheduled on both the days. Best oral and poster presentation were also awarded. This conference provided an opportunity to researchers and students to discover new scope and challenges in the diverse field of material science including metals, ceramics, glasses, polymers, composite materials, their structure, properties and applications.

National Workshop on Basic Applied Econometrics 26- 30 December 2018

ANNUAL PLAY -“ Phool & Fools”

There are situations that force the youngsters to take stern decisions like committing suicide. How youngsters take such harsh measures due to failure in academics and love was very well showcased with a comical twist by the students of IIS (Deemed to be University) Theatrical Society in their satirical Annual Play “Phool and Fools” staged on 29th September 2018 at India International School Auditorium.

The play began with introducing two narrators, who in a very interesting way narrate the fantasy story. The narrator while telling the story to the audience, introduces the lead character of the story Rajkumar Astabhan and his best friend Mufatlal. As the play moves on, it shares a serious conversation between the prince and his friend.

The play is based on “Nagfani Ki Kahani” penned by noted writer Harishankar Parsai highlighted the awful situation of the society in a heart touching way.

Vivek Kumar directed the play while Hardik Shah designed it. According to the director, the play is based on Red Nose Clowning Form and the philosophy behind this form is finding something in nothing and conveying sense out of non-sense. This play was an outcome of 38 days of theatre workshop in which 43 artists were taught the spontaneity and the element of surprise in life as 43 different souls were transformed into energy on the stage.

Mr. Vivek is an alumnus of National School of Drama and has been trained in Red Nose Clowning under Ashwath Bhatt. He has performed in more than 500 shows of wizcraft’s production “JHUMROO” at Kingdom of Dreams. Hardik Shah is a founder of Five Senses Theatre Group. Presently, he is directing a Web Series for Amazon Prime. Theatre Co-ordinator Dr. Aditi R. Khandelwal has contributed in giving the play a final shape.

The defining quality of this entertaining show was its cast. The comic timing of Urvashi Bidawat as Astabhan and Divya Bhomia as Mufatlal is simply amazing. Priyal Mathur as Nagfani was very convincing in both the situations once when she was heartbroken and later when she fell in deep love with Astabhan. Mansi Agarwal and Surabhi Agawal tickled the funny bones of audience who played the role of Poet and Singer respectively while trying to pacify grieving Astabhan.

Bandit Queen fame National Award Winner Theatre, Film and Television Actor Ms. Seema Biswas was the chief guest on the occasion. Ms. Biswas applauded the artists’ performance in the play and persuaded them to pursue acting as she had seen a great potential in them.

Dr. Ashok Gupta, Vice-Chancellor of the university congratulated everyone associated with this play for putting their heart and soul into it to make it successful. He also distributed participation certificates to the students.

SPORTS ACTIVITIES

“Champions do not become champions when they win the event, but in the hours, weeks, months and years they spend preparing for it. The victorious performance itself is merely the demonstration of their championship character.”

Gain a passion for sports, love the morning, love the environment, love playing and in no time you will love your life even more and enjoy it to your fullest. Our greatest weakness lies in giving up and the most certain way to succeed is always to try just one more time. Do not aspire to be the best on the team, aspire to be the best for the team.

Success is not given. It is earned on the track, on the field, in the gym. With blood, sweat and the occasional tear.

The IIS (deemed to be University), Jaipur is a leading institute in women education, has not only provided its students quality education, but also a platform to prove themselves and carve a niche in this highly competitive world.

Yoga is a healing system of theory and practice. The purpose of yoga is to create strength, awareness and harmony in both mind and body. The relaxation techniques incorporated in yoga can lessen chronic pain, such as lower back pain, arthritis, headaches and carpal tunnel syndrome. Yoga can also lower blood pressure and reduce insomnia. It increases flexibility, muscle strength and tone, respiration, energy and vitality and weight reduction with improved athletic performance. Stress can reveal itself in many ways, including back or neck pain, sleeping problems, headaches, drug abuse and an inability to concentrate. Hence, aside from the array of physical benefits, one of the best benefits of yoga is that it manages stress. ## VIVIDHA - THE MEDIA FEST

The 7th Media Fest of the IIS University - Vividha was organised by the Department of Journalism and Mass Communication on 7th & 8th January 2019 in the university campus.

The two day event commenced with the inaugural ceremony which was graced by the presence of the Chief Guest Shri Jagdish Upasane.

The inaugural ceremony began with the college prayer and lighting of the lamp followed by the Welcome Address from the Hon'ble Vice Chancellor of IIS University, Dr. Ashok Gupta, thanking Shri Upasane for gracing the event with his presence.

A journalist with over 40 years experience in the field of journalism, Shri Upasane spoke on a wide variety of topics, ranging from the importance of cultivating news sense through the reading of newspapers to explaining how journalism serves the public interest and therefore carries a social responsibility. Despite how journalism has changed over the last 40 years and how its language as a medium has evolved, journalists, he said, remain the gatekeepers of the readers, thus fulfilling the purpose of journalism. Citing the example of our own alumnus, Palki Sharma, he emphasized the kind of example she has set in the media for all the young journalists being trained in the ranks of our University.

He concluded his speech by motivating the students towards skill development and to take up the responsibility of the media to raise for accountability in the public interest and to undertake fair journalism without any fear while keeping the morals of journalism in mind.

The college newsletter - Youth Speak - was also released by the Chief Guest on this occasion after which he was presented with a memento by our Registrar, Dr. Raakhi Gupta.

The event concluded with a vote of thanks by the HOD of Journalism and Mass Communication, Dr. Garima Shrivastva.

Equal Opportunity Cell
Report Equal Opportunity Cell 2018 -April 2019
Orientation Programme

The IIS University has introduced this Cell in order to curb down the deprivations that the marginalized groups, identified as SCs, STs, OBC (non-creamy layer), minorities, physically challenged, face barriers of denial of access to materials, cultural and educational resources and to promote the deserving, yet socially disadvantaged students. The Institution has been conferred with grants and scholarships, during its Autonomous status, for students to give them an opportunity to excel in preferred fields. These scholarships have been a huge motivation to introduce a separate unit which will work specifically towards the promotion of female students coming from these social groups. Currently, the Cell is catering to the needs of almost 400 students of The IIS University.

Aims and objectives

1. To provide guidance and counseling to students with respect to academic, financial, social and other matters and to oversee the effective implementation of policies and programs for disadvantaged groups.
2. To adopt measures to ensure due share of utilization by SC, St, OBC, minorities in admissions, recruitments (teaching and non-teaching posts) and to improve their performances.
3. To orient them for scholarships, test and programs which will help them receive financial support from State/Central Government and to organize interface with well-established/leading academicians from the same categories regularly so that the students are motivated towards achieving their goals.
4. To make efforts to sensitize the academic community regarding the problems associated with social exclusion as well as aspirations of the marginalized communities.
5. To provide them access to opportunities thorough guest-lectures and broaden their knowledge.
6. To introduce to them, social welfare schemes offered by the State Government for the betterment and promotion of these classes.

Gender Sensitization on Sexual Harassment	6 August 2018
Gender Sensitization Sessions	14, 21 and 28 August 2018

6 August 2018 Gender Sensitization on Sexual Harassment

Collaborative effort of Department of Commerce and Management and Women's Studies, Women's Cell, Gender Club and Population Education Club

Team Armaan has been associated with the University for past four years coming to do session with students about creating awareness towards sexual harassment. Their motto is Respecther, i.e., respect the other. Students of Management studies and Women's studies participated in the session.

The session commenced with screening of a very powerful video which talked about assault, harassment and its reportage. This was followed by a round of questions asked by them, viz, "Have any of you been harassed from verbal to any physical way?" Lots of hands were raised. "Do you think anyone from your family could be a potential rapist?" Only three hands went up.

A potential rapist is someone who has the ability to rape someone which starts with ignored sexual harassment.

The speaker then talked about the power of standing up and fighting for your rights.

Lastly, few incidents were shared, questions were discussed, some startling facts discovered.

Or the fact that the Shipra Path police officials are willing to set up an office near to the college, they just don't have enough number of complaints to be put down on paper. They said that only two cases have been filed in three years and harassment is a daily issue, they are aware of that. Speed dial numbers were set up, police stations numbers were given, were informed about the statements in IPC against harassment and sexual assault. The session was so interesting that none of the students wished to leave.

The session was not only an awareness session on sexual harassment and available protective legal provisions but it was also an effort to change outlook to overcome fear and shame.

14, 21 and 28 August 2018 Gender Sensitization Sessions

Department of Women's Studies and Management

Day 1 Ms. Chanda Asani did sessions with management students for 3 days. First day was introducing students to accepted concepts of beauty as considered in advertisements! The constructions of gender are so strong that the idea of questioning the advertisements of fairness comes as a surprise to the young girls. They slowly acknowledge and accept the created insecurities and discrimination of beauty myths. The appearance involves not just the colour but also how women speak and dress and their education also plays a part in this process of differentiation. The hierarchy inherent in this gendered process is difficult to perceive. The management jobs are paid higher than others, is also part of this system of gendered socialization.

Day 2 Women's menstrual health was taken up the second day. The purity and impurity notion is a major gender issue which creates young girls to have low self esteem. This is due the fact that menstrual cycle is monthly affair and when girls get initiated to this in their impressionable adolescence. Month after month, year after year the reproductive period coincides with the productive period in women's life. If menstruation is associated with impurity and women are not allowed to worship then they tend to feel inferior. Knowing that it is the same blood which enhances all humanity is an eye opener and provides space for change. Seeing menstruation as health criteria helps women to respect their bodies and take care of it accordingly.

Day 3 Women's representation in History was taken to further empowerment of girls. There are hardly any women in mainstream History. This is because there were hardly any queens and History is written about rulers! And the women who are written about in Indian History are mostly from upper caste and upper class can be counted on fingers. This again makes women feel that their work and worth is not good enough to be written about. Rewriting History has been done by Women's Studies scholars not just from academics of History but also feminist scholars from various other disciplines. This rewriting is making women visible to all. This rewriting also speaks about how women are represented in history as per patriarchal norms. One such example is Taj Mahal a tomb of Mumtaz Mahal, third wife of Shahjahan who died giving birth to her 14th child. History does not mention about Razia Sultan's tomb, the only queen of Delhi Sultanate, same religion but was given the kingdom in preference of her brothers as she was more capable. If antiquity is concerned as taken with Brahmanical texts considered more valid when older than Razia Sultan should have been more important in representation in History! That would be inspiration to women and men to diminish the gendered socialization.

12 February 2019 Visit to JKK for Kamla Bhasin's session

Jointly organized by Women's Cell, Department of Sociology, Social Work, JMC and Women's Studies

Azad Foundation Jaipur celebrated Kishori Mela and One Billion Rising Against Violence on women on 11-12 February 2019 in JKK. Students from different schools of Jaipur attended the programme. On the concluding day there was a session of Ms. Kamla Bhasin, Social activist, change maker and author. Women's Cell in collaboration with other departments of IIS University organized for students of Foundation Women's Studies and Journalism to attend this session to JKK. Kamla Bhasin's book Patriarchy is read in Women's Studies courses both in Elective and Foundation by students so it was indeed a privilege to take students to attend a session specially one which she was doing for young adolescent girls mostly from underprivileged background. She slowly steered the girls through honestly interacting session by sharing personal experience for understanding gendered knowledge making constantly bringing Constitution of India. Even though the session was for adolescent school girls, it was enriching for University girls and faculty, as Kamla Bhasin is candid in her sharing and she goes beyond books to bring out the nuances of gender constructions of society.

Department of Women's Studies, Gender Champion Club and Population Club

A Ted Talk was screened for Foundation Women's Studies students. The Ted Talk by Kamla Bhasin is titled 'Patriarchy Dehumanizes Men'! The 18 minutes Ted Talk is an attempt to make students see how gender not only constraints men but it also dehumanizes them. It banishes the idea that that patriarchy only oppresses women. It does not allow scope for men to express emotions which leads to unexpected violent ruptures. The Ted Talk was done in either coed college or only male students! As the audience is not visible it is only through Bhasin's addressing of the audience this assumption can be made and the acceptance of audience can be heard by cheers. Her quoting of WHO about the missing girls brings forth the gender perspective to both genders! Students were asked to write what they would do to bring change in the patriarchal system. Bhasin and her brothers celebrated Raakhi by tying it on each others hand, brothers and sisters together lit the pyre of their mother, such examples gave an insight how practical possible changes could bring equality.

28 February 2019 Overcoming Stress Among Working Women

Women's Cell of the IIS (deemed to be) University organised an interactive session by Prof Roopa Mathur, Dean Arts and Social Sciences, for the faculty of University on the theme, 'Overcoming Stress Among Working Women'. Being a psychiatrist Prof Mathur briefed the audience about the reasons of stress among various age groups. She also spoke about the regular problems working women face today. Using a short video clipping she gave a new dimension to the problem that women face on day to day basis and also gave tips to combat such issues in a subtle manner. The session was full of energy where faculties from all streams including arts, science and commerce participated enthusiastically as it is relevant to all. Prof Deepa Pareek, Prof Sharad Rathore, Prof Nisha Yadav, Prof Radha Kashyap were also present in the session. It was suggested by the faculty to have more sessions on similar theme.

Ms. Chanda Asani, Coordinator Women's Cell welcomed Prof Roopa Mathur. Dr Ruchi Goswami Assistant Coordinator gave vote of thanks.

2 March 2019 Screening of Ted Talk

Women's Cell, Gender Champion Club, Department of Chemistry and Physics

Women's Cell and Gender Club periodically organizes gender sensitization sessions in IIS University campus. As part of this gender sensitization process, students of Department of Chemistry, Physics and JMC and student volunteers of Gender Champion Club, and Faculty members of Women's Cell, saw the Ted Talk screening of Kamla Bhasin's Patriarchy Dehumanizes men. As this Ted Talk is comprehensive about the issue it have been used to interact with diverse groups in the campus. Each time the response has been wonder for getting to see the familiar but expressed tongue in cheek! That there are mostly men Vice Chancellors, men judges and men owning property, is known to most, and accepted, unless said together with a percentage attached to it and that these are positions of power. Patriarchy oppresses women in various degrees but only when it is known that it dehumanizes men it comes as a revelation. It creates need for relooking issues and changing accepted views. When viewers can laugh with the speaker then they can associate with the clip the Ted Talk starts with - a baul singer asking, 'Oh Soul, tell me if you are man or woman?' Then the layers of construction of gender, gives way for restructuring equality.

International Women's Day Programme

7-8 March 2019 Poster Exhibition

Jointly organized by Women's Cell, Gender Champion Club and NSS

Semester VI Arts and Arts Honours students have Foundation Women's Studies as a compulsory course. The pattern of evaluation has class assignments for each unit as a category. For one of the units they are expected to make charts on Women's Rights without using words. Women's Studies is the study of underprivileged perspective. The students being in education have to consider those who cannot read and express creatively women's rights. The posters they make are exhibited for 2 days in campus as part of celebrating International Women's Day. It is a pleasure to see the creativity of students when posed with something as unexpected. Few students take help from internet, few bring out the obvious selection, some make attempts at trying something new and some create extraordinary expressions, altogether making each year worth waiting for their creative upsurge. The students who come to see are wonderstruck by the concepts. Students from different departments and NSS volunteers came to see the exhibition. Women's Studies elective students tried to evaluate the posters. Journalism and Mass communication students saw it from their perspective.

8 March 2019 Guest lecture on Women's Health

Women's Studies and Women's Cell collaborate with Santokhba Durlabhji Medical Hospital

Women's Health is an integral part of social existence which neither gets addressed by the society, nor women themselves. Women's health is taken as Unit in Foundation Women's Studies. For International Women's Day a session about Women's Health was organized in IIS Campus for students of the University. Dr Shweta Gupta, a Gynecologist had an interactive session with the students sharing a few aspects of women's health. Breaking taboos about menstruation she candidly took the students into confidence to share their personal sexual issues with their family doctor. Not go to strangers and to not delay such issues. The medical fraternity has had to deal with teenage pregnancies. She did not want to divulge the enormity of it but her concern and safety of college going girls was obvious when she insisted that they should take precaution and urge partners to take precaution too. She further shared about Cancers prevalent in women many of which can be avoided with preliminary tests. Even being a Gynec her approach was more of prevention and social health for developing healthy womanhood. It was an enriching session for the girls on the path to adulthood, an apt session for celebrating International Women's Day.

लेक्चर का उद्देश्य स्टूडेंट को प्रेरित करना : प्रो. रामनारायण

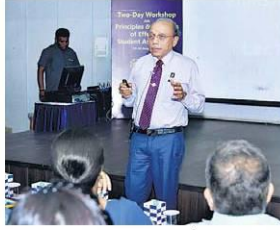

जयपुर, (कासं)। आई आई एस (डीम्ड टू बी विश्वविद्यालय) की ओर से साइंस विभाग के शिक्षकों के लिए शुक्रवार से दो दिवसीय कार्यशाला का आयोजन किया गया।

प्रिसिपल्स एंड प्रैक्टिसिज़ ऑफ इफेक्टिव स्टूडेंट असेसमेंट विषय पर आयोजित इस कार्यशाला में बतौर मुख्य वक्ता मणिपाल युनिवर्सिटी जयपुर एंड वाईस प्रेसिडेंट फैकल्टी डेवलपमेंट के चेयरमैन प्रो. के रामनारायण मौजूद थे। समारोह की शुरुआत कुलपति डॉ. अशोक गुप्ता के स्वागत भाषण से हुई। डॉ. गुप्ता ने बताया कि विश्वविद्यालय द्वारा गुणवत्ता शिक्षा के लिए समय-समय पर कई कार्यक्रम आयोजित किए जाते रहे हैं एवं यह कार्यशाला इस श्रेणी का एक हिस्सा है। प्रो. के. रामनारायण ने लेक्चर किस तरह से दिया जाए पर अपने विचार बताये। उन्होंने शिक्षकों को समझाया कि एक अच्छा लर्नर अच्छा

शिक्षक हो यह ज़रूरी नहीं। लेक्चर का सबसे प्रथम व अहम उद्देश्य स्टूडेंट्स को प्रेरित करना है दूसरा उद्देश्य बच्चों को प्रभावित करना एवं सबसे आखिरी उद्देश्य उनको सूचित करना है। प्रो. रामनारायण ने बताया कि एक रचनात्मक शिक्षक वो होता है जो पाठ्य पुस्तक से हटकर पढ़ाए ताकि छात्र उसे पढ़ने के लिए तत्पर हो सके। परन्तु इन सबसे पहले एक शिक्षक के लिए ज़रूरी है कि स्टूडेंट्स के दिमाग खोले जाए ताकि उनमें ग्रहण करने की क्षमता हो। एक प्रभावी लेक्चर वो है जो पूरा नहीं है क्योंकि सही लर्निंग लेक्चर के बाद आती है न कि पहले एवं ऐसा कोई लेक्चर नहीं होता है जिसमें सबकुछ बताया जा सके। रजिस्ट्रार डॉ. राखी गुप्ता ने कार्यशाला के लक्ष्य व उद्देश्यों से सभी को परिचित करवाया। कार्यक्रम के उद्घाटन समारोह में प्रो. प्रदीप भटनागर भी मौजूद थे।

कृष्ण और राधा के रूपों को किया जीवंत
इसके बाद उन्होंने कथक के लखनऊ घराने की तकनीकों का प्रदर्शन किया जिसमें उनके फुटवर्क के साथ भव्य पक्ष का संयोजन देखने योग्य था। उन्होंने अर्धनारीश्वर की प्रस्तुति के बाद अपनी भाव मुद्राओं से भगवान श्रीराम, कृष्ण और राधा के रूपों को जीवंत किया। उन्होंने बताया कि कथक में भलो के जरिए ही हर रूप को जीवंत किया जाता है इसके लिए अलग अलग कॉस्ट्यूम अथवा मेकअप की आवश्यकता नहीं होती है।

'The first time I felt like a celebrity was during Jannat 2 tour in Jaipur'

By Neha Choudhary@timesgroup.com

Esha Gupta, who was recently in Jaipur to participate in the 12th edition of IIS Auditorium, has a special fondness for the Pink City. Talking to us, she said, "I am a Delhi girl and I used to visit Jaipur during the holidays as it's only a four-hour drive. On weekends, my father used to drive us to Neemrana. He would tell us, 'Wohlogat hai toh Neemrana chahi...'"

A self-confessed shopaholic, Esha has done a lot of shopping in Jaipur. She said, "This time too, I wanted to go shopping, but didn't have much time."

Esha recalled an incident when she was in the city to promote her debut film, Jannat 2, with Emraan Hashmi. "We got stuck and our car couldn't move. Worst missed our flight. The promotional tour began from Jaipur, and that was the first time I felt like a celebrity," she said, adding, "I have also realised that one of the best evenings we get for our film was here. I think the youngsters of Jaipur love to watch movies."

A few months ago, Esha was called out on social media for making racist remarks against Nigerian footballer Alexander Iwobi. She later apologised by saying that she did not "realise it directed towards racism". At the event, Esha spoke about the incident and the trolling she faced on social media. "People called me racist. I maintained my dignity and apologised. But the trolling didn't stop. People said things like, 'You smell like Indian curry'. My whole existence was shaken. But then I realised that other than your family nobody else's opinion matters,"

I'VE REALISED THAT ONE OF THE BEST OPENINGS FOR JANNAT 2 WAS IN JAIPUR. THE YOUNGSTERS HERE LOVE TO WATCH FILMS

she said.

Esha stressed on the importance of understanding that social media is not real life and we should stop comparing ourselves to others after looking at posts. "We live in a time where we compare ourselves to others on a regular basis. I have done it, too. I have been active on social media and at one point, I was only bothered about others - what they were doing, what clothes they were wearing, what movies they were watching. I hated myself after I heard someone say, 'You're a cesspool' because that someone was not me. But soon, I realised that focusing our frustration on what we don't have will get us nowhere. Instead, we should focus on our goals and work hard to achieve them."

Three-Day Workshop on “Japanese Woodblock Printmaking by Kenji Najima” and “Demonstration cum artist talk on Chine- Colle by TomoyoIhaya”

The Department of Visual Arts organized a three-day workshop on “Japanese Woodblock Printmaking by Kenji Najima” and “Demonstration cum artist talk on Chine- Colle by TomoyoIhaya”. The workshop was from 25 -27 February, 2019 from 10 am to 4 pm Visual Arts Department of IIS University Campus, Mansarovar, Jaipur. Kenji Najima and TomoyoIhaya were the artists invited from Japan for their demonstration. Born in 1968 at Mie, Kenji Najima is a Japanese Printmaker who has held many solo and group shows internationally. His work has been appreciated and has featured on the book covers of many Japanese writers. His works are displayed in many Japanese Museums like the Fukuoka Art Museum, Kurbo City Art Gallery, The Museum of Modern Art Wakayama and others. Kenji Najima works on woodblock plates and prints them with a baren, a hand tool with flat bottom used in Japanese woodblock printmaking on handmade Japanese paper using watercolor pigments. In this workshop, Japanese artist Kenji Najima displayed his prints, discussed his works’ subject, technique and process and demonstrated how to create water-based wood block print. Students of Department and faculties participated in this workshop and interacted with the artist who generously elaborated his technique to the students.

The printmaking studio of Visual Arts Department of IIS University Campus, Mansarovar, Jaipur on 27th February 2019 was bustling with young artists on Wednesday when Canada-based Japanese artist TomoyoIhaya shared with them a special technique of graphic art in the morning. The printmaker demonstrated techniques of Chine Colle graphic art. The usual intaglio style of printmaking involves the incision of the required image on a metal plate on which ink is applied and then imprinted on a thick paper. In the Chine Colle method, the paper used is of a smoother and thinner variety. The artist does not need to prepare and print additional plates. “This is an Italian technique in which the image produced is creamier and has special effects of smoother textures. Since initially Chinese natural fiber paper was used, the method is known as Chine Colle. But now, a Japanese paper, gampi, made from a variety of wild mulberry plants, is used,” said Tomoyo. She demonstrated how the same image when produced on gampi has sharper details than on European paper. Students also tried their hand at it and Tomoyo guided them well. It was an exceptional experience for the students. Tomoyo shared her drawing and painting concepts during a deliberation on the same day in evening at the same venue. Printmaking and etching are her forte, for which she is acclaimed worldwide. She put on show her experiences in the past visits in India through her drawings (drawing a cremation site in Varanasi, documenting fire pits, cremation alters, and contemplating on life and death around fire) synchronized with this particular movement, an extreme way of ‘offering’ their bodies to ‘fire’ for asking freedom and peace. Much of her art speaks to deprivation, oppression, lost homelands, escapes and exile. She has developed her own iconography to convey compassion for this misery. Frequent symbols are legs - often truncated at the knee - eyes, fires, tear drops and empty bowls. At times, she even burns small holes in her paper with incense sticks. Her latest exhibition, Eyes Water Fire, at Art Beatus in Vancouver until Nov. 25, is another paean to compassion. Delicately drawn icons, sometimes painted in gentle tones, elicit a visceral response. Blue legs, for instance, "cross the borders on snow-covered mountains or swim across the ocean," says Ihaya, or, flames awash in red declare "resistance and dignity or lights of prayers."
