INTRODUCTION

Inception

The IISU grew out of the International College for Girls (ICG), which was established in 1995, as a college affiliated to the University of Rajasthan. Since then, ICG has crossed many significant milestones in its journey towards excellence in higher education. Besides receiving numerous other accolades, it was accredited A+ by the NAAC of UGC in 2005. It was also identified as a Model College by the state government in 2006 and thereafter it was conferred the status of Autonomous College in 2007 by the U.G.C. It was further recognized as a College with Potential for Excellence (CPE) by the UGC in 2010. In a national survey conducted by AC-Nielsen-ORG MARG, also in 2010 for the India Today magazine, ICG was rated as the topmost college in the state in Arts, Science and Commerce streams. Ranked among the top 30 institutions of the country in this survey, the College became a symbol of quality education and women's empowerment. The institution while working as an Autonomous College was declared as Deemed-to-be-a-University by the Ministry of Human Resource Development (MHRD), Government of India, vide its notification dated 2nd February, 2009, issued under Section 3 of the UGC Act, 1956. This, more than an achievement, was a reaffirmation of our faith in the quality and innovation, in research and academics taken up at the institution right from its inception in 1995. Soon after becoming Deemed University in the name and style of 'The IIS University', in a review conducted by the 'Tandon Committee' constituted by the MHRD, it was recognized for its competence and strength and was placed in category 1, along with the 37 other Deemed-to-be-Universities of Category 1 across the country. This has accorded IISU greater reliability and credibility and provided with a unique opportunity to explore and put in place what is needed to empower its students through the three Es -Efficiency, Excellence and Effectiveness and prepare them as worthy citizens, ready to take up social and economic reforms with a scientific aptitude.

Thus, from a visionary beginning in 1995, IISU is now moving on to new heights as a digitally smart campus with contemporary and relevant programmes and e-learning systems. Alongside its rapid growth and development, the University retains a friendliness and warmth, which has characterized the institution from its early days. With about 5000 students on its rolls and more than 300 faculty and staff members, it offers Undergraduate, Postgraduate and Doctoral degree programmes in streams like, Arts, Humanities, Visual Arts, Science, Home Science, Social Sciences, Computer Science and IT, Commerce and Management, Fashion Designing, Jewellery Designing etc. A multidisciplinary University, its curriculum requires both breadth of learning and in-depth knowledge and prepares its graduates to be problem- solvers, communicators and ethical citizens of a global community.

The first dissemination activity of the first transversal Strategic Lines (SL)- (SL1) Internationalisation of Curriculum - why and what for? was organized on the July 31, 2021 for the staff and students of the IIS University.

In all 176 faculty members and 167 students participated in the event.

The 9 resource persons of the different sessions were the Level 1 Badge achievers of the IISU.

The dissemination activity was planned to meet the objectives of RISHII Strategic line 1 Internationalisation of curriculum: why and what for? and covered topics related to it. Besides, the agenda was also designed in a way to give the participants an insight of the RISHII project and share with them the knowledge garnered from the project so far.

- What Curriculum Internationalisation is (and what it is not);
- Benefits and challenges of Curriculum Internationalisation, Internationalisation-FOR-ALL;
- Curriculum Internationalisation and Competence-Based student-centred HE;
- Curriculum Internationalisation and employability;
- Curriculum Internationalisation and global citizenship;
- Agents of Curriculum Internationalisation and their roles

At the outset Dr Ashok Gupta, Chancellor, IIS University, welcomed the delegates and shared with all the vision of management vis-à-vis Internationalisation at the IIS university. This was followed by Prof T. N Mathur, Vice-Chancellor's address on the topic.

Dr Raakhi Gupta, Rector & Registrar, IIS University and also the contact person and a participant of the RISHII project further acquainted the delegates with the objectives of the project and the purpose of the webinar. She also highlighted the need of Internationalization and its various benefits for the Institution.

The first session on Internationalisation of HE: The Global Perspective, was delivered jointly by Dr. Arti Sharma, Head, Department of Sociology and Dr. Himangini Hooja, Head, Department of Psychology. In this session the speakers reviewed the practice and profession of higher education through a broader and more globalized lens of internationalization, in order to expand the vision of what higher education is today and can be for the future

The second session was a recorded talk of Prof. Pankaj Mittal, the Secretary General, AIU who shared with all, the Govt of India's initiatives and plans to evolve an international friendly eco system in Indian Higher Education Institutions through the New Education Policy (NEP 2020). The talk gave us a direction to align University's strategic plan in light of the new education policy's directives/vision.

Internationalisation includes a broad range of elements right from the curriculum, teaching-learning, research, institutional agreements, students and faculty mobility, development co-operation and many more. However, in the recent years, curriculum has become the defining element of Internationalisation of Higher education. In the next session Prof Ila Joshi, Head, Department of Home Science, Dr Chhavi Jain, Department of Management and Dr Payal Mehtani, Co-ordinator, IQAC jointly enlightened the participants with some basic concepts of Internationalisation of Curriculum focusing on Why and What for? The session was instrumental in creating a learning & dynamic environment directed towards conscious change in approach to internationalization.

The session on Connecting Curriculum Internationalisation with Global citizenship and graduate employability was delivered jointly by Dr Neha Batra and Dr Anju Singh. In their talk they emphasized on how an internationalized curriculum engenders Global Citizenship(GC) in graduates to prepare them for life-skills, employment and employability. They deliberated on the fact that the University now has to focus on inculcating specific skill sets amongst its students through its innovative and Internationalised curricula and learner-centric teaching.

The final session was specifically on IISU's strategic plan for internationalization, which was delivered by Prof Vijay Singh Rathore, Director IISU's International cell who shared with all the preparedness and planning of IISU International Cell and the strategic plan for way forward in the direction of Internationalisation.

The closing remarks were given by Prof K.S. Sharma, Advisor, IISU.

The feedback from attendees was taken through a google sheet, shared with them at the end of the programme. Feedback received from the participants indicated that the seminar objectives were clearly defined and met and the dissemination further enhanced the understanding of concepts of internationalization and its adoption in the Institution. Overall the level of satisfaction of all attendees is more than 95%, however some of the suggestions that were received are the following:

- Specific workshops to be organized wherein, discussions and deliberations on internationalization of subject specific curricula be undertaken.
- Elaboration on Internationalization assessment tools be done
- Pre-assessment tool/questionnaire may also be given besides the post feedback questionnaire so as to assess the actual learning outcome.

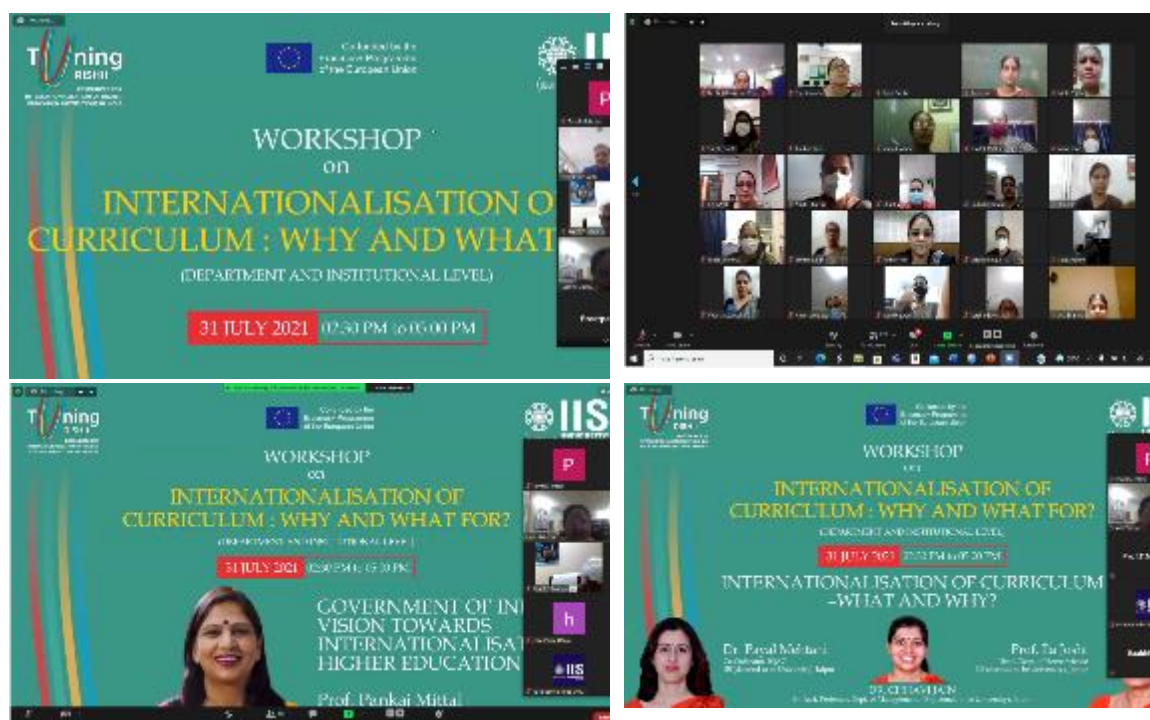

The attendees also shared the following as best practice-

- Well organised and well-planned workshop
- All contents were presented through PPTs in compact way
- Clear and objective discussions.
- The conceptual clarity of the speakers
- Interactive involvement
- Multiple resource persons with short lectures
- Time Punctuality
- Well- articulated Content-layout & presentation
- Internationalization of Curriculum, and views on NEP 2020

It is suggested in the feedback received from the resource persons and the attendees that an increase in the duration of the workshop may enhance the dissemination outcomes. The increased duration will give enough time to add interactive tasks/activities pertaining to internationalization of specific curriculum. With the hands on training it might become a workshop in true sense.

The webinar was an empowering experience for all of us. We were successful in creating informal intellectual spaces for discussion on internationalization of curriculum across various departments. We realized that we have enormous potential for internationalization in academics and research. We need to build friendly and inclusive education system which is synergistic with global needs. The seminar was an excellent opportunity to bring together the action agents (stakeholders) of Internationalisation on the same platform across faculties/departments. Overall experience of the seminar for all of us has been very good. It has consolidated, deepened and broadened the learning of not only delegates but also of the RISHII participants of IISU (level1 badge achievers). In fact it has had the Protégé effect on the RISHII consortium in true sense.

IISU Dissemination activity – May 26, 2022
Internationalizing Degree Profiles: A Strategic Pathway towards Preparing Global Citizens
A Reflection Report

A National webinar on “Internationalizing Degree Profiles: A Strategic Pathway towards Preparing Global Citizens” was organised on May 26, 2022 by IIS (deemed to be University), Jaipur as part of dissemination activity of the Strategic line 2 of RISHII project, i.e. Profiles of Global Professionals and Citizens. The webinar received an overwhelming response from all quarters, 204 delegates from all different parts of the country, namely Haryana, Jharkhand, Punjab, Maharashtra, Karnataka, Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand, West Bengal and Rajasthan attended the workshop.

The event was moderated by Dr. Rimika Singhvi, Head, Department of English, IIS (Deemed to be University), Jaipur

The first session was the inaugural session in which Dr. Ashok Gupta, Chancellor, IIS (deemed to be University), delivered the welcome address.

He extended a warm welcome to the resource persons and all the participants and shared with all that the vision and mission of the university are aligned with the goals of National Education Policy (NEP), 2020 which reflect the University’s aspiration to be an International Model Institution for students beyond predicted expectations. He also said that Internationalization of Degree Programme Structures is an evolving landscape, both locally and globally. Higher Education is influenced not only by the national policies but also by the global perspective. Internationalization is acting as one of the major forces in shaping higher education in India. It has been widely established that the students who have the advantage of international education enjoy a higher employability in the global market. This is attributable to a variety of factors like increased level of comfort in a multi-cultural environment and a better understanding of industry operations. The students who have been exposed to international education exhibit more refined decision making and problem solving skills which are relevant to global needs. He expressed quite explicitly that those institutions which are working proactively towards developing and sustaining internationalization can expect their students to be highly valued by the prospective employers at the national and international level. Referring to the National Education Policy (NEP), 2020 which also envisages to promote Internationalization through structural policy reforms and insists that Internationalization should be adopted by all higher education institutions, he shared with all that the IIS University has taken the initiative to organize this workshop to train the stakeholders to spearhead internationalization initiatives in their institutions.

Followed by this, Prof. Raakhi Gupta, Rector & Registrar, IIS (Deemed to be University), Jaipur presented a comprehensive overview of the workshop and shared with all the purpose of the event including the outcomes of SL2.

The opening remarks were delivered by Prof. Tatiana Fumasoli, Director, Centre for Higher Education Studies, IOE, UCL’s Faculty of Education & Society, University College, London and Dr. Jim McKinley Associate Professor, Department of Culture, Communication & Media, IOE, UCL's Faculty of Education & Society, University College, London.

Prof Tatiana spoke on the topic “The Globally engaged University at the times of COVID 19”. She touched upon an extremely pertinent issue related to the global engagement of Universities, that how the global engagement is not a transformational strategic choice for all. In fact, it is an ongoing debate on the issue and it is now accepted that some universities do not need it and therefore do not engage in it, while others focus on limited dimensions only. Global Universities responded better and more quickly during COVID 19.

Dr Jim in his talk on the topic “Fostering Global citizenship in (despite) internationalized higher education”, gave an interesting concept of “Marketization and Englishization”. Sharing his research, he gave an insight into the “enterprise era” and stated that the focus now is more on a research-enterprise nexus rather than teaching-research nexus. He also elaborated on the concept of English as a global language and addressed the issue of language diplomacy. He raised several questions like:

- Does the internationalization agenda inherently hinder the development of global citizenship by not taking into cognisance the diversity of thought ?
- How can the internationalization agenda support employability of global citizens, considering its focus on the Englishization of HE ?
- Are curriculum efforts such as decolonizing the curriculum inherently problematic? After all, law/ policy-makers cannot decide content (knowledge-based curriculum or curricular reform).
- Does fostering global citizenship mean taking risks and challenging certain ideologies, given the fact that academics are invariably liberal and indifferent to political views.

He explained that reflections on these questions will give deeper insights into the complexities and challenges associated with the process of internationalization of education.

The inaugural session was followed by six technical sessions. The resource person for technical session I was Dr. Aparna Rayaprol, Associate Director, Office for International Affairs, University of Hyderabad. The title of her talk was, “Internationalized Degree Profiles for Preparing Global Citizens”. In her inspirational talk, she touched upon a very important issue of ethnography in Internationalisation, reiterated the cultural context especially with reference to Indian diversity. She shared her experience of being a Fullbright fellow. She stressed that one of the key issues that the Indian Universities must address, is the requisite pathway to build the administrative ability of all stakeholders. Students need to be given a global understanding of the world and they need to be taught to appreciate different cultures.

The resource person for technical session II was Dr. Nimit Choudhary, Professor, Department of Tourism, Hotel, Hospitality, Jamia Millia Islamia University, New Delhi. He reflected on “International Dimensions of Curricula”. His talk stressed upon the inclusion of some very specific competencies in the curricula, specifically ethical and moral dimensions of global citizenship, technology and global skills, cooperation, empathy, cross-culturalism etc. He emphasized that the whole eco system must develop inclusive learning and specific cultural components should be taken into consideration while setting out a template for HEIs in India and when partnering with other institutions outside the country. At the end he raised certain issues with reference to Indian HEI that must be addressed for successful internationalization.

The resource person for technical session III was Dr. Chetan Singhai, Associate Professor, School of Social Sciences, Ramaiah University of Applied Sciences, Bengaluru. His expert talk focused on “Internationalised Degree Profiling”. He initiated the talk by addressing the concept of Glocal in Internationalisation, which is very well understood as transitioning and amalgamating the local with the global. Further he shared with all his views on Internationalisation in/of higher education and its importance. He stressed that today there is a need of students who are global citizens, confident and capable of working in different countries around the world. He also deliberated on the fact that Internationalisation is a critical parameter today in world rankings and ratings. He further talked about the need of mapping of the degree profiles and the various parameters that must be mapped while adopting internationalization.

The resource person for technical session IV was Dr. Shyamala Hande, Professor, Department of Basic Sciences, Manipal Academy of Higher Education, Jaipur. The title of her talk was “Internationalized Degree Profiles: Design and Implementation”.

She shared with all the participants a tool that can help in profiling degrees in a systematic way. Further she apprised all with the dynamic set of operations that happen in the cyclical manner in a student centric learning set up when degree profiling is undertaken. She discussed at length about incorporation of global outlook in the competencies and programme learning outcomes and emphasised that development of language skills, intercultural competence and working in diversity should be taken into consideration while formulating internationalized degree profiles. She also stressed that capacity building and staff development are integral aspects of internationalization process.

The resource person for technical session V was Prof. Rashmi Jain, Head, Department of Sociology, University of Rajasthan, Jaipur. Her talk was on the topic, “Towards a Global Competency Framework”. She highlighted the need for training students to work in a diverse environment as we are living in an interconnected world where more people with higher order skills are required. She elaborated various components of Global Competency Framework in terms of critical thinking, problem solving, innovation, creativity and addressing multiplicity of challenges. She discussed about self-directed learning, collaboration and communication for building global competency among students. She also expressed that India has a lot of potential to be knowledge superpower. Higher education institutions have a central role to play in this context and we should prepare ourselves to reap the benefits of internationalization of education.

The technical session VI was on the topic, “Why Cultural Quotient and Cultural Intelligence are Important ILOs”? The resource person for the same was Prof. Sudhir Rana, Associate Professor & Programme Director, College of Healthcare, Management & Economics, Gulf Medical University, UAE. He explained the significance of Cultural Quotient and Cultural Intelligence in real life situations as well in virtual spaces. He discussed about incorporation of social, emotional and capability intelligence in International Learning Outcomes and how lack of cultural intelligence can lead to incivility and deviance. He established a relationship between development of cultural intelligence and successfully working in global virtual teams. He proposed that Project based learning should be encouraged so that the students get hands on learning experience of working in diverse settings.

The closing remarks were delivered by Prof T. N. Mathur, Vice-Chancellor, IIS (deemed to be University). He highlighted the significance of the workshop in today's context, especially when India is all set to transform its education landscape by implementing its new education policy. He reiterated the fact that the higher education must be internationally aligned and work in unison base academics, as well as advanced research. The commonality of education platform shall promote outreach and employment opportunities globally. In academics, it should also blend cultural and linguistic diversities and prepare one to be a global citizen. Today, numerous universities in India have collaborated with other International Universities and have students' exchange programme in place. The National Education Policy also underlines its importance. In the end, he appreciated the RISHII project aims and objectives and said that this project shall help in identifying pathways and mechanism to adopt generic principles, which shall be applicable for any area of studies. It will surely help in capacity building of the participants through sharing of ideas and rich experiences of the eminent speakers today.

The workshop ended with vote of thanks to the speakers and all participants.

This workshop brought together scholars from diverse spaces and was successful in enhancing our understanding of Internationalised degree profiles. It was successful in motivating the stakeholders to appreciate the need for developing requisite skills for navigating successfully through the internationalization process. The workshop also helped us to understand the process of designing globally attuned programmes and also the parameters to be taken into consideration while working on developing internationalized degree profiles. The expert talks and discussions unearthed the various dimensions of internationalized degree profiles. The workshop highlighted the importance of shared efforts and team work will further guide the participants in their future endeavours towards internationalization.

ASHIRWAD (CULTURAL EVENING CUM SEND OFF CEREMONY)

Date: 9th May, 2022

Time: 6:30 p.m.

Venue: IIS (Deemed to be University) Jaipur lawns

Extracurricular activities offer opportunities for students to learn the values of teamwork, individual and group responsibility, physical strength and endurance, competition, diversity and a sense of culture and community. Extracurricular activities provide a channel for reinforcing the lessons learned in the classroom, offering students the opportunity to apply academic skills in a real-world context, and are thus considered part of a well-rounded education. Participation in extracurricular activities may increase students' sense of engagement or attachment to their institute, and thereby decrease the likelihood of education failure and dropping out. If, indeed, participation in extracurricular activities can lead to success in life, then the availability of these activities at IISU to students of all backgrounds becomes an important equity issue.

“Aashirwad” (Cultural Evening cum Sendoff Ceremony) was organized at the IIS (Deemed to be University) lawns on 9th May, 2022 at 6:30 p.m. On this occasion, Juniors gave heartfelt tribute to their Seniors. Aashirwad ceremony, began with Vandana. Welcome note was delivered by the Honorable Chancellor, IIS (Deemed to be University), Dr. Ashok Gupta. The IISU Theatrical Society performed a comical play. On this occasion, the Final year students of the University took blessings and best wishes from their teachers and were equally nervous and excited to step into a new world. The occasion marked a very significant day for all the students embracing a new life taking away a bag loaded with mixed memories along them. They bid adieu with smiling faces, hopeful hearts, heads held high to do exceptionally well in their profession. With the blessings and lessons imparted, they know that they will do wonders and will add more jewels to the glory of the university.

Visual presentation of reminiscences was played that brought the students down the memory lane where they cherished the moments of being an IISuan.

The students were awarded by different titles and Certificate distribution ceremony was followed by blessings of Chancellor of the University, Dr. Ashok Gupta. During the first and the second wave of Covid -19, it was impossible for the institutions to reach out to communities in person, but on virtual platforms, interaction could be maintained. The prevalence of the pandemic has exposed us to the various social-economic problems. Apart from the problems of health infrastructure, the world also suffered from sudden loss of employment owing to the situation of lockdown. We live in a world of new uncertainties which require us to be more prepared and responsible. Rural communities suffered more on the economic front because of the dependence on sub-urban and urban areas for commercial activities. So, it was decided by the University to focus on awareness, advocacy and skill development to start addressing the concern especially from the Covid perspective.

The visit was scheduled on 26th February, 2022. There were 36 students who participated in the field visit to Jaisinghpura. The aim of the visit to interact with the women of the village and spread awareness regarding the relevance of hygiene in the post-Covid era and also to take a note of the problems that were specific to the Covid time-period. The second activity was to visit the government school where we distributed stationery kits to the students and also there was a poster-making activity in which students from the school and university were involved. The theme of the poster-making was environmental awareness / Personal Hygiene. The last activity of the day was a rally by the students on literacy.

Talk on Hygiene in the Post-covid times

For this activity, women from the village households were invited for an informal and interactive discussion on the idea of cleanliness. The resource person was Ms Anjali Anand, Department of Sociology, IIS(deemed to be University), Jaipur. The talk began with asking women about the cleanliness measures that they have taken in the wake of Covid 19 pandemic. The women replied that they are able to ensure that the homes are clean but making sure of the clean surroundings is being a difficult task as there are problems regarding dumping the waste and also near the water tank, there is water accumulation which is posing difficulty for the people. It was noted that women were aware of the fact that masks need to be worn as the pandemic is still spreading but they also said that there are hardly any cases of the disease here and things are otherwise well-controlled. On being asked if they experienced economic pressure because of the lockdown, women responded that they all managed but they also felt the need to work outside homes as well. They expressed their interest in learning sewing, embroidery and also they are prepared to receive some formal training for the same. It seems that Covid 19 pandemic has led women to understand that they should also learn skills and contribute in economic sense so that there is a better preparedness in the case of unexpected economic challenges.

Activities at the school

In the school, the volunteers from the University asked the students to do poster-making. It was a group activity in which students participated happily bringing their ideas to paper. The posters drawn were a reflection of the fact that they envision a cleaner and greener environment. It was a creative way to express what kind of understanding they have developed in terms of environmental issues. It was a learning experience for the students through a colourful and fun-filled way. The activity was interactive as the student volunteers discussed the relevance of cleanliness as well as the benefits of having a clean environment. Stationery kits were distributed to the children of Anganwadi and primary classes to motivate them as the examination season is approaching.

Rally on Literacy

Towards the end of the visit, students took out an awareness rally on literacy. As we know that Covid 19 has pushed a lot of students out of the schooling system in the absence of access to virtual media for education or because of financial problems. This rally was a reminder that education is an instrument of transformation and we have to try our best to address the barriers. We must keep our interest in learning alive so that we can experience desirable social changes.

SPORTS ACTIVITIES

"Champions do not become champions when they win the event, but in the hours, weeks, months and years they spend preparing for it. The victorious performance itself is merely the demonstration of their championship character."

Gain a passion for sports, love the morning, love the environment, love playing and in no time you will love your life even more and enjoy it to your fullest. Our greatest weakness lies in giving up and the most certain way to succeed is always to try just one more time. Do not aspire to be the best on the team aspire to be the best for the team.

Skit 'A Tale of 1947' on 75th Independence Day Celebration

Date: 15th August 2021

Time: 9:30 AM-10:30 AM

Platform: Zoom

No. of Participants: 03

IIS Theatrical Society organized the screening of the play 'Tale of 1947' on the occasion of Independence Day. In August 1947, after ruling India for three hundred years, British finally left. The end of British Empire resulted in the creation of two separate states, India and Pakistan. They drew a line not only on the land of Indian subcontinent but also in the hearts of its citizens. Old friends were now foes, the memories spent together were no longer sweet and the colors of love, friendship and faith were all replaced with that of rage, hate and bloodshed. Tale of 1947 is one such incident which takes us back to the horrors of the partition. The play begins when Mohammed gets emotional on the mention of his childhood friend Jugal by his sister. He goes in flashback and remembers the conversation between him and his friend Jugal. They were scared because the ongoing political unrest was at its peak. The Muslims were butchering Hindus and vice versa. Scared of the scenario Jugal asked Mohammed to leave India. The argument got so heated that Jugal ended up shooting Mohammed on his leg. Heartbroken Mohammed left India and is now living in Pakistan. The screening went well and left questions and pain in the heart of the audience. The screening ends with thanks to the organizers, faculty members, participants and the viewers for smooth execution of the event.

Screening of Nakkad Natak “Ladduvala Din”

Date: 15th August 2021

Time:9:30 AM-10:30 AM

Platform: Zoom

No. of Participants: 03

IISU Theatrical Society organized the screening of the street play ‘Ladduvala Din’ on the occasion of 75th Independence Day, 2021. Ladduvala Din is a street play which teaches one how to be a genuine human and true patriotic simultaneously. This street play showcased a clear message that one should acknowledge rather than blaming. It has wonderfully depicted how unknowingly we humans point at each other for our own mistakes and in turn blames to the country as a whole and how we blame our society even though we know we ourselves are a part of it. This play beautifully portrayed questions in the mind of audience and at the end gave them a key to it that we somewhere forget the positive of everything and how important it is to acknowledge rather than blaming. On the special occasion of Independence Day, this play ignited our audience with a new light and a new thought of patriotism. And left traces in their heart of these beautiful lines in this street play-

“MeraDeshkuchistarhamahanhai, Meraburasokhkar Acchamujhekhilatahai, Yun he nahimeradesh Maakehlatahai”

The screening went well and left questions and pain in the heart of the audience. The screening ends with thanks to the organizers, faculty members, participants and the viewers for smooth execution of the event.

Voices

Date: 30th October, 2021

Venue: Aditya Hall

Number of Participants: 16

IISU Theatrical Society performed the skit Voices to commemorate the mental health month. Voices is a skit which tells about the inner voices and screams of the people around us and among us. It shows the hypocrisy, shallowness and insensitivity of the society we live in. The skit involves different stereotypes and a real-life instance.

Mental health is important at every stage of life, from childhood and adolescence through adulthood. Voices addresses the problems related to mental health at different stages of life where one has to go through difficult situations and tough times. Mental health includes emotional, psychological and social well-being. It becomes very important to be mentally fit to make right decisions and handle strenuous situations in a better way. Voices makes an effort to create awareness and explain importance of mental health.

Mental illness is still a taboo in many parts of the society. It is time that we start considering these issues seriously and be sensitive towards the people around us who are dealing with them all alone. After all, a little kindness doesn't hurt.

The audience appreciated and applauded the performance. They could relate with the content as it was well researched. In today's world where people tend to speak a lot about mental health, this skit was an initiative to actually understand mental stress, strain and pressure.

Venue: Meeting Room/ Zoom Platform

No. of Teams Participated: 16 teams from all over India

Note: Event was postponed

IIS (deemed to be University) for the first time ever, organised a National Nukkad Natak Competition. It was a two day event. On the first day, the honourable judges Mr. Ranbir Singh and Mr. Arvind Kaur were graciously welcomed. The teams from all over India enthusiastically came forward and participated in the competition. The competing colleges were from places like Delhi, Mumbai, Chennai, Varanasi and Jaipur. The screening was arranged in the Meeting Room and students joined the event virtually. The event was also streaming live on the University's YouTube channel. Eight performances were screened on 17th (from Tag no. 1 to Tag no.8). The remaining nine performances (from Tag no. 9 to Tag no. 17) were screened on 18 November 2021.

Mr. Ranbir Singh shared his opinions about nukkad natak and how it was made and performed in older times. He also appraised and constructively criticized the performances. He talked about conventional nukkad natak that were performed during his times.

It was a very informative and interesting event and even though it was a virtual event its impact was still unhinged.

The performances were versatile, varying from issues like water conservation to complex LGBTQ+, hence it broke all the stereotypes regarding street play itself with out of the box ideas. The fact that the performances were created, scripted and performed on floor by the students themselves is quite astonishing and contending at the same time.

The spirit, hard work and dedication of the University, the staff members, student volunteers and all the participating teams made this event possible and successful. The results were announced on November 23rd and following is the list of winners:

- First Position: Vivekananda College, University of Delhi
- Second Position: Miranda House, University of Delhi
- Third Position: SST College, Mumbai and IIS (deemed to be) University

The creativity, hard work and cooperation of each and every team is much appreciated and held in high regard. The event commemorated with pictures of teachers and judges. Below are some glimpses from the event:

Bhagotia, Regional Passport officer, Jaipur, Government of India. She is presently posted as Deputy Secretary (PP&R) Ministry of External Affairs. The main aim of the webinar was to know about different schemes associated with the digitalization of passport procedure and the growth in number of passport issuing to the citizens.

Ms Bhagotia focused on the Passport Seva Project, 2012. The main aim of this project is to extend Passport services to the citizens by expanding the network for Passport services and ensuring service delivery with greater security, reliability and defined service levels. This project simplified the passport services in India over the period of time. She said that India holds the 3rd position in issuing passports preceded by China and America. She also linked the increase in passport issuing is directly related to the people going abroad. As more and more people are going abroad for their studies and jobs, the requirement of a passport increases at the same time. TATA consultancy services play a major role in the issue process of passports under the Passport Seva Project. Today there are around 555 passport offices in India.

MEA launched the M passport police App to improve the overall PVR processing cycling time. The app is available for download to the Police Station users who are already accessing the PSP Police (Web) Application for the purpose of Police Verification processing of the Passport Services applicants for recording the inputs of field verification processing done at the applicant's address.

She also introduced M passport seva app which provides facility to Register, Apply, Pay and Schedule appointment for Passport related services. If you have linked your documents with the digilocker, then the citizen need not to carry their documents to the passport office. It made it easy for the people to get their passports in less time. The users can track the status of their passport applications using file number and date of birth.

In the end a Q&A session was hosted by Mr. Abhinav Banthia. Mr. Arpit Patni ended this session by giving a thank you note to the speaker and the attendees and added that one day the passport services will be as quick as ordering food online.

Report on Research Colloquium

Research Colloquium Series, which is an initiative by Centre for Women's Studies to provide a platform to budding researchers for discussion of research work on women related issues and also dissemination of knowledge across disciplines.

In this series, an online Research Colloquium was jointly organized by Centre for Women's Studies and Research Promotion Committee on 31st July, 2021 which was attended by the faculty members and research scholars of the University. At the onset, the Director of Centre for Women's Studies, Prof. RoopaMathur, welcomed the participants and enlightened them with the objectives of the discussion. She then, introduced the expert panel of academicians which included Prof. Nisha Yadav, Prof. SharadRathore, Dr. RimikaSinghvi and Dr. ShipraMathur. The presentation was given by AnkitaChoudhary, Research Scholar from Department of English titled "The Diasporic Journey: From the South Asian to the British Brown, with Reference to women characters in selected fictional Writers". Her work was supervised by Dr. Sucharita Sharma, Sr. Assistant Professor from Department of English." She presented the patriarchal conduct and marriage in South Asian immigrants' families living in London portrayed in Monica Ali's Brick Lane and Atima Srivastava's Looking for Maya. The study examined how these two subjects encourage the physical desires of Ali's religious and culture-obedient Nazneen, and Srivastava's high-spirited and dangerously naïve Mira. Gaining liberty through a job and their wish to explore the outside world brought them to romantic sexual experiences. Their decision caused new complexities and also led them to have an affair which introduced them to an imagined world of romance and a horrifying world of unchastity-in case of Nazneen, and trauma-in case of Mira. The complex emotions and helplessness at becoming emotionally and physically involved with a man consequently lead them to self-discovery.

After the presentation, various issues and perspectives were raised and taken up for discussion by the panelist on Diaspora, ethnicity, gender and equality, justice and liberty, patriarchy, women's right and breaking up of stereotype. It gave an inter-disciplinary perspective which was brought in by expert panelist to the colloquium. As discussed by panel of expert, Prof. Nisha Yadav highlighted how patriarchy is deeply structured where both men and women are shaped by a typical socialization pattern that is responsible for their social behaviour and expectations. Dr. ShipraMathur, discussed and pointed at regional variations in terms of gender identities and shared her perspective on how women in challenging times are challenging norms. DrRimikaSinghvi discussed that the sense of freedom is also imposed on women and accordingly every society will have its own explanation. At the end, the Prof. RoopaMathur concluded the research colloquium with vote of thanks to all the participants and the panelist.

Awareness session on Cancer prevention and healthy lifestyle in collaboration with Department of Sociology and Sanjeevani Life beyond Cancer (NGO)

Type of Event: Online Session

Date: 11 September 2021

Venue: IISU Campus

Name of Resource person: Archita Ma'am

No. of Participants: 50

Name of the activity Coordinator: AnganaGoswami/GargiBhatnagar

Name of Collaborating Agency: Sanjeevani Life beyond Cancer (NGO)

Objective of the seminar: Create Awareness among the society about Cancer prevention and healthy lifestyle

Summary- This event was organised by Sanjeevani life beyond cancer (NGO) who is working in the support of the patients who have been diagnosed with cancer. Session was started with welcome note. Thereafter Ms.Archita the speaker for the session started with giving knowledge on cancer.Cancer is a broad group of various diseases, all involving unregulated cell growth. All cancers begin in cells, the body's basic unit of life. To understand cancer, it's helpful to know what happens when normal cells become cancer cells. The body is made up of many types of cells. These cells grow and divide in a controlled way to produce more cells as they are needed to keep the body healthy. When cells become old or damaged, they die and are replaced with new cells. But sometimes this orderly process goes wrong.

The genetic material (DNA) of a cell can become damaged or changed, producing mutations that affect normal cell growth and division. When this happens, cells do not die when they should and new cells form when the body does not need them. The extra cells may form a mass of tissue called a tumour.Not all tumours are cancerous; tumours can be benign or malignant. Benign tumours aren't cancerous. They can often be removed, and, in most cases, they do not come back. Cells in benign tumours do not spread to other parts of the body. Malignant tumours are cancerous. Cells in these tumours can invade nearby tissues and spread to other parts of the body. The spread of cancer from one part of the body to another is called metastasis. Most cancers are named for the organ or type of cell in which they begin. For example, cancer that begins in the stomach is called stomach cancer. Some cancers do not form tumours. For example, leukaemia is a cancer of the bone marrow and blood.

RISK SIGNS & SYMPTOMS PREVENTION

All women, especially those over the age of 30. Also look out for following cases -

- Women with a family history of breast cancer (mother or sister)
- Personal history of benign breast disease
- Late age (30) of first pregnancy or never bearing children
- Early beginning of menstruation or late menopause
- Those with a high fat intake, or those who are obese

Signs & Symptoms

Early stages of breast cancer usually do not cause any symptoms. This is why regular breast exams are important. As the cancer grows, symptoms may include:

- Breast lump or lump in the armpit that is hard, has uneven edges, and usually does not hurt
- Change in the size, shape, or feel of the breast or nipple -- for example, you may have redness, dimpling, or puckering that looks like the skin of an orange
- Fluid coming from the nipple -- may be bloody, clear to yellow, green, and look like pus

Men can get breast cancer, too. Symptoms include breast lump and breast pain and tenderness.

Symptoms of advanced breast cancer may include:

- Bone pain
- Breast pain or discomfort
- Skin ulcers
- Swelling of one arm (next to the breast with cancer)
- Weight loss

Calling your health care provide

Contact your health care provider for an appointment if:

- You have a breast or armpit lump
- You have nipple discharge

Also call your health care provider if you develop symptoms after being treated for breast cancer, such as:

- Nipple discharge
- Rash on the breast
- New lumps in the breast

- Swelling in the area
- Pain, especially chest pain, abdominal pain, or bone pain

Prevention

Learning what causes cancer and what the risk factors are is the first step in cancer prevention. Many cancer risk factors can be avoided, thus reducing the likelihood of developing cancer. Many risk factors, such as your genes and family history, cannot be controlled. However, eating a healthy diet and making a few lifestyle changes may reduce your overall chance of getting cancer. The best advice is to eat a well-balanced diet and avoid focusing on one "cancer-fighting" food. The American Cancer Society's dietary guidelines for cancer prevention recommend that people:

- Choose foods and portion sizes that promote a healthy weight
- Choose whole grains instead of refined grain products
- Eat 5 or more servings of fruits and vegetables each day
- Limit processed and red meat in the diet
- Limit alcohol consumption to one drink per day (women who are at high risk for breast cancer should consider not drinking alcohol at all)
